THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

SHIRLEY WALKER of this city made a couple of San Francisco people a lot happier with a good deed performed recently.

Writing an appealing letter to the Strike It Rich TV program, her entry was accepted and as a result MAXINE and BILL PECK are $500 richer.

JOE LOUIS, former heavyweight champ, was the guest celebrity who gave the right answers for the Pecks in the quiz section of the contest, winning the $500 smackers.

The Pecks, who are both blind, and are playwrights by avocation, will use the money to purchase a braille writing machine.

The Daly City coffee shop, looking through the window in the morning hours, looks something like a menagerie of civic officials.

Taking advantage of that national institution, the "coffee break," usually can be seen city administrator, DAN ANDERSEN, Ye Police Chief, ROLAND PETROCCHI, his leftenant, ROY BEECHER, JAMES MASON, recreation director, and, usually, a councilman or two to boot.

JOE CHEROLIS and brother, NICK, are old Daly City nursery hands from way back. Joe will be competing with his frere, starting soon, with the completion of his flower outlet on Junipero Serra.

Nick is the guy who's never seen without a big black stogie in his face. "I'm surprised he doesn't sleep with it," says brother Joe.

Thinking like a millionaire is the key to being one, at least that's the key to success given by P. MARTIRE, local builder, who, though he doesn't post claim to the seven-figure bracket, saw the evolution of someone who does.

As Martire explains it, "this guy used to work for me—all the time he's talking in terms of 'million this, million that.'"

Now, Martire relates philosophically, "he's trying to buy the Russ building in San Francisco for $6,000,000."

And, what's more, he's got the coin to do it.

Local B of A manager, DAN HARRIS, has got the right idea for his vacation.

His journey will take him to the easy chair in the front room, where he's going to plant himself for one solid week watching the goings-on between the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers in the annual feudery between the American and National leagues.

BILL DEGLIANTONI, DC roof mender and builder, is nursing a sore paw, understandably, after catching it in a buzz saw.

CAROLINE COOK, a former San Franciscan, finds it lonely in Daly City at her 462 Bellevue avenue address.

A week after her arrival here recently her husband, LELAND, suffered a stroke, and has been confined to San Mateo Community hospital.

We know it's trite, but in this

TO QUERY LAWRENCE HERE TODAY

A $30 check cashed by his girl friend, this week led to the arrest in Culver City of Ralph Lawrence, 30-year-old Doelger advertising executive.

Lawrence, who assertedly bilked the firm out of a sum near $30,000, was scheduled to be brought to Daly City yesterday (Thursday), and arraignment on six separate counts of grand theft has been slated for Monday in municipal court.

The young advertising manager will undergo interrogation today to clear up some of the hazier details, Lieut. Roy Beecher said.

Alfred Spalding, claims superintendent for the St. Paul-Mercury Indemnity company, the San Francisco firm that bonded Lawrence, made a citizen's arrest on him Monday afternoon in the home of a charming Culver City blonde.

Lawrence was traced by Spalding to the Culver City address after his girl friend had cashed one of his checks and put her address beneath her signature.

Aiding materially in the apprehension of Lawrence was Officer Dave Johnstone, of the Daly City police. Johnstone discovered the check written by Lawrence, signed against the Westlake Bank of America branch. Lawrence had written the check out to his girl friend, who, when signing it, listed her address.

Last week local police believed that Lawrence's writing this check for $30 indicated he had squandered most of his funds. This assumption was born out Monday when only "three or four" dollars were found on Lawrence's person. Also confiscated by police was a brand new convertible Cadillac. Lawrence claims "He has no money left at all," Spalding said.

When Lawrence made his hasty exit from Daly City he left behind his wife, Alice, and a three-month old son. His wife has already filed for divorce.

Comes The Dawn; A Dream Comes True

Virginia Ross, 424 Irvington street, thought she was having a bad dream Monday morning at 3 a.m.

When she awoke later she discovered it wasn't a dream, but the results were bad.

It seems Tom Lytle, an Oregon fisherman, had left the car in her care.

Monday morning, thinking it was a nightmare, she heard the car being started and driven away.

On awakening, her dream had come true.

Police report no recovery of the stolen car has been made yet.

A plan for doubling the capacity of the Daly City library was presented to the local library commission Wednesday night by Wayne Carr, one of the members.

The preliminary layout called for utilizing all available space in the local library, thus making possible the future installation of some 25 book stacks. At present the library has 36 stacks, containing a total of 9000 books.

The commission pointed out that, if the increased capacity plan does go into action, it would not necessarily mean the immediate expansion of reading facilities.

However, it was pointed out, the move would mean a major step in the improvement of the library's prospects for the future.

Carr, explaining that "everything was jammed up" in the library at present, showed the commission a diagram of his plan, which received approbation from commission President Henry Sundermann and member Mrs. Maude Hanselman.

The plan calls for putting all stacks at the rear of the library, moving the charge desk near the door on the left hand side of the entrance, and establishing the children's section at the front of the building.

This would make possible the storing of all adult books at the rear of the library.

It was also explained that placing of the charge desk near the entrance would greatly reduce the theft of books.

The re-organizing of the library facilities would take care of all library expansion needs for the next ten years, the commissioners said.

Sundermann said such a plan "was long overdue" and added that he was heartened by the prospect of the improvement.

Due to the absence of two commissioners, no formal action was taken on the matter.

A special meeting of the group was set for Wednesday, 9 p.m., at the library, where a further study of the feasibility of the plan will be made.

The commission also pointed out that many persons were not yet aware of the new library hours. Hours now stand at 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. weekdays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays, closed Sundays.

In other action the commission moved to improve the "bad conditions" existing in the library restroom.

Discussion was also held on the purchase of new furniture for the children's room.

YOUNGER SAYS CITY HAS CHANCE FOR PO

Congressman J. Arthur Younger, speaking before the luncheon gathering of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce yesterday (Thursday) spoke favorably of chances for this city to obtain a post office.

"I am well aware of the need for a post office in Daly City," he said, and explained that an assistant postmaster would be here soon to investigate the local postal situation.

Younger also told of the efforts of the administration to try and return government land to local control, thus providing additional tax revenue for counties such as San Mateo, where the need for widening the tax base is acute.

PLANNERS, CHAMBER WILL DISCUSS PROSPECTS FOR INDUSTRY IN CITY

Groundwork for a plan to bring industry to Daly City will be laid at a meeting Tuesday, September 29, at 8 p.m.

Discussing the possibility of securing sites for tax-producing industry will be five members of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce and the local planning commission.

William Kennedy and Robert Hunter, representing the Chamber, appeared before the commission at their Thursday night meeting to ask such a study.

In other business at their Thursday night meeting, the commission considered a petition from the Jefferson Elementary School district for annexation of a section of their property into the city of Daly City. The school seeks to have Blocks 47 and 48, in the Abbey Homestead area (where the New Colma school is located), brought into the city.

The commission agreed to notify the district that they must be able to provide sewer, water and fire protection facilities.

The commission also considered two petitions asking re-zoning.

Thomas Mitchell, 6192 Mission street, seeks to have Lot 2, Block B, on the Mission street tract, rezoned from duplex to multiple dwellings. He plans to construct apartments there.

Mrs. D. Garibaldi White, 1214 Buick avenue, San Mateo, asks rezoning of Block 3, Lots 28 and 29, in the $75 Homestead tract. She wishes the duplex-zoned area changed to light commercial.

TEEN-AGERS NABBED AS SCHOOL VANDALS

Local police announced this week that they had "definitely" solved the recent $3500 Westlake school vandalism.

Officer Dave Johnstone, with the cooperation of one of the youngsters involved, tracked down four youths who admitted taking part in what was described as "one of the worst" acts of vandalism ever to occur in the Daly City area.

Johnstone said all of the juveniles were "about 12 or 13 years old." None of them were implicated in earlier cases of vandalism, however.

Last week Johnstone picked up a youngster whom he suspected of taking part in the school havoc. The youth led police to the other youngsters who had taken part.

Names of those involved in the vandalism have been turned over to school and juvenile authorities.

3771 ENROLLED AT ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS HERE

Jefferson elementary district administrators weren't far off when they predicted a 3800 enrollment for this year.

After the second day of school this week in the district's ten elementary plants, a registration of 3771 was recorded. This is approximately 300 over the number of pupils in attendance last year.

Biggest jump in enrollment for individual schools was at Westlake and R. S. Thornton schools. Forty new pupils brought the total to 619 at the Westlake school, largest in the district, while Thornton registered 146, 20 more than attended the school last year.

Registration for other schools was as follows: Jefferson, 417; Colma, 510; Woodrow Wilson, 571; 87th street (church building), 126; Gen. Pershing, 311; Benjamin Franklin, 133; Garden Village, 146; and Crocker, 362.

Two of the schools, Colma and Crocker, are currently on double sessions for all classes, while Jefferson and Woodrow Wilson have several classes on the double schedule.

MINOR ROW AT COUNCIL MEET

A minor verbal skirmish developed in the ranks of the city council Monday night over bids on a new park maintenance truck for the city.

Principals in the difference of opinion were Councilmen Paul Green and James Kennedy.

The Cecil Whitebone company of San Francisco submitted the low figure of $1335.27, while the Neville company of Daly City entered a figure of $1363.07, less than $28 above the low bid.

Green contended that the low bid should be accepted, "in looking out for the interests of Daly City taxpayers."

Kennedy complained that, since the local firm paid $18 business tax, their bid was actually only $10 higher than the other. He said the local company should be considered first in awarding the bid.

After several supporting arguments from both sides, the Cecil Whitebone bid was accepted, with three "ayes" voiced, one "no," that by Councilman Kennedy.

PRAISE HEAPED ON REC DEPARTMENT: MEMBERS OF COUNCIL

Mrs. Jack D. White, 689 Templeton avenue, who last year unleashed a scathing verbal attack against the council in general and the city administrator in particular, did a turnabout at Monday night's council meeting.

She arose from the audience to express her pleasure "at the fine job done by the recreation director, James Mason, and the city council." She referred specifically to the completion of Frankfort park, and mentioned other projects recently completed or in progress by the city.

"I just thought I'd let everyone concerned know that, as a mother, this work is appreciated." She also lavished praise on Ed Mosconi of the recreation department.

Mayor Anthony Gaggero thanked Mrs. White for the fine words that come to council all so seldom, and added that it would be an incentive for the recreation department to carry on their efforts.

However, Mrs. White's parting statement held a slight shade of dissatisfaction: "I just hope the recreation department gets better cooperation in the future."

Recreation Workers Plan Fall Program

Community Center To Be Site For Activity

Daly City's fall recreation program will be launched soon, with the community center being the focal point of most activities, according to James Mason, recreation director.

Scheduled to start about October 5 will be adult and teen-age basketball leagues. Each circuit will consist of approximately six teams. In charge of the leagues will be recreation worker Dick Milkovich. All contests will be played at the center.

The Daly City band will also conduct their practice at the memorial building.

Another group making their headquarters there for the fall will be the Misbehaven club, Daly City teen-age group.

A staff of 12 recreation workers will direct the fall activities.

DANCE ON TONIGHT FOR LOCAL YOUTH

First back-to-school dance will be given for Daly City's younger set tonight (Friday) at the Community center by the Misbehaven club.

The affair will begin at 8 and last until 11 p.m., with sport clothes the suggested attire.

Admission for the function, supervised by the local recreation department, is 50 cents stag, 75 cents couples.

Music will be provided by Billy Wagner and his band. Wagner is a former trumpet player with the Billy Goodman and Hal McIntyre bands.

DEMATTEIS IS NAMED TO SUPERIOR COURT

Louis B. Dematteis, San Mateo county district attorney, was this week named to fill the county's fourth Superior Court judgeship.

Dematteis, a staunch Democrat and nominal head of the party in this county, will be succeeded in the district attorney post by John Bruning, county clerk.

Bruning has had experience in the post, having served as an assistant district attorney in the county at one time.

Increasing load on the county's three superior courts brought about the creation of the fourth post.

High School District To Invest Surplus Money

The Jefferson Union high school district board of trustees voted Monday night to invest some $100,000 of surplus district money in short-term government securities.

The county treasurer's office was instructed to make the investments.

Sub-leases for the Westmoor high school plant site were approved by the board Monday. Angelo Olcese, the master lessee, had sub-leased the area to four persons. The school is leasing the land until that time when construction of the plant is possible.

Water Project Is Set In Motion

Daly City Employees Seek Amendments On Retirement Law

The Daly City Employees' association Monday night submitted for council approval several changes in workers' retirement benefits.

The requests for approval was asked on recent amendments to the State Retirement Board's charter. The amendments have already been adopted by the board, but must receive council sanction to be operative in Daly City.

Increase of death benefit payments for families of city workers from $300 to $400 was asked by one of the amendments.

Also sought was the lowering of retirement age from 55 to 50 years of age after 20 years continuous service for safety (police and fire) workers. A clause in this request was that retirement pay be one-half the salary earned at retirement.

Approval on an amendment making age for firemen alone 50 years, instead of 55, was also requested.

The council submitted the charter changes to the board of review.

MILK DRIVERS' PRESIDENT IS OPTIMISTIC

Dennis Says Chances Good For Settlement

Edward J. Dennis, local councilman and president of the Milkwagon Drivers Union, No. 226, indicated today that "chances were very good" for smooth arbitration of differences between his union and employers.

A meeting was scheduled last night (Thursday) between management and the union.

A strike was averted at an early hour Monday morning when the employers came up with a "package deal," which was "a much better proposal," than they had offered earlier, Dennis said.

Approximately 1100 drivers in San Mateo and San Francisco counties are involved, and a tie-up would cut off the supply of milk to both areas.

Dennis said he was "very hopeful" that a strike would not have to be called.

According to Dennis, the union has no strike record during the past 50 years.

The San Francisco Labor Council has been participating in current negotiations.

Attendance Of 500 Expected Tomorrow For Center Dance

The community center will be the setting tomorrow (Saturday) night for the Youth Guidance dance, sponsored by Lake Merced Post No. 9921, VFW.

The occasion marks the first time a service organization dance has been held at the center.

The dance will last from 9 p.m. until 1:30 a.m.

Chairman Godfrey Woods said an estimated 500 persons would be in attendance.

Music will be furnished by Olden Greenwell's rhythm makers, featuring Dana Clay as vocalist.

Reigning as queen of the function will be Barbara Sirriani.

Scheduled to be on hand for awarding of prizes is Mayor Anthony Gaggero.

Proceeds from the dance will go to assist various youth organizations in the community.

Tickets, selling for $1, may be purchased at the door or by calling PL. 5-1947.

According to Post Commander Lyle Cuykendall, the dance will become an annual affair.

FIRE ENGINE BIDS ARE RECEIVED BY CITY COUNCIL

Decision On Contract Held Over Pending Study By Fire Chief

Bids for Daly City's new fire engine, to be purchased as part of the over-all expansion program of the local department, were received by the city council Monday night, but held over for further consideration.

The following bids were received: American Le France, $29,800; Maxim, $30,032.46; Mack, $32.742.19; Seagrave, $30,468.50.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy is studying the bids and the various models to determine which will give the city the maximum for its money.

The council will make their decision, on Kennedy's recommendation, at the next regular meeting, September 28.

Parochial Schools Enrollment Reaches 750

Enrollment for Holy Angels and Our Lady of Perpetual Help parochial schools remained at capacity for the fall semester, with a total of 750 children registered at the two schools.

OLPH has an enrollment of 450 children, approximately the same as last semester, according to Father Norman Allen. Three new sisters have been added to the teaching staff.

The addition of a sixth grade class at Holy Angels boosted the enrollment to 300 pupils, 50 more than last semester. A new classroom will be added each semester until Holy Angels school has eight grades, according to Father Reali. Two sisters have been added to the teaching staff.

Ricci Named Police Commission Chairman

The city council received an official letter from the police commission Monday night, informing them that Tony Ricci has been appointed chairman of the commission.

To continue as secretary will be Edmund Whitney.

DANCE QUEEN Barbara "Bobby" Sirriani and Post Commander Lyle Cuykendall looking over the entrance to the Community Center as dance date draws near for the Veterans of Foreign Wars Youth Guidance dance.

Largest single step toward the realization of Daly City's $390,000 water improvement program was made Monday night as the council called for bids on the first of two reservoirs to be located in the Westlake area.

The reservoir, which will have a 1,500,000 gallon capacity, is to be located at Southgate and Bradley streets and will be known as Westlake Reservoir No. 6.

Waterline to the project is nearly half way completed.

Money allocated by the voters at the bond election October 28 will finance the water improvement project, which will eventually give the city an extra 3,000,000 gallons capacity.

Beginning of the project comes at a time when the water resources of Daly City are "reaching a drastically low state," according to Arthur Bodien ,former superintendent of the department.

Bids for the first reservoir, which engineers believe will cost in the neighborhood of $67,000, will be opened October 13.

It will take approximately six months to complete.

Plans are underway for the second, and larger water storage unit. City Administrator Dan Andersen said bids for this project will be called in approximately two or three months. He said there will be no pressing urgency for completion of the second reservoir, once the first has been installed.

Meanwhile, financing of the water improvement program will probably be eased with the expected allocation of $50,489 in state Christmas Tree fund moneys.

The council Monday night made formal application for the money, which has ben set aside for Daly City public works projects. The money will probably be forthcoming in 60 days, Andersen said.

Tom Callan Jr. Is Named To Key Post In Crusade

Thomas Callan Jr. of Daly City, active figure in local civic affairs, has been named to a key position in San Mateo County's United Crusade, sponsored jointly by the United Fund and the San Mateo County chapter, American Red Cross.

Callan was named to the north county committee of the crusade by William B. Tyler, chairman of the advanced gifts division of the crusade.

Serving with him are John Canevari, vice-chairman in charge of the north county group, Locke B. Parish and William F. Leuteneger. The last two, along with Callan, will act as captains for the district.

Tom Callan Jr., member of a northern California pioneer family, is in the home-building business with his father and brother and is an insurance broker of Colma. He is past commander of Old Glory Post 2044, VFW, a member of Lake Merced Post, American Legion, and a members of the Eagles, Colma Vista Grande Lodge 1848 and San Mateo County Elks Lodge 1112.

According to Canaveri, "We are all set up in the north county. Our division spearheads the Crusade by calling on persons and firms accustomed to making their donations before the kick-off day."

Thief Takes $200 Worth Of Tubes; Also 1 Pair Of Shoes

A thief with a liking for radio and TV tubes and old shoes got away with some $200 worth of goods belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Zaharis, 6596 Mission street Friday.

While Mrs. Zaharis went in to exchange a pair of shoes at a shop on Mission street Friday afternoon, a pair of shoes in her car and a suitcase containing about 170 radio and TV tubes were taken.

Mrs. Zaharis said the tubes were worth approximately $200, but gave no estimate on the value of the shoes.

Rapid Rise To Fame For D. C. Performer

Some thirteen years ago Harold Lang was a Western Union messenger in San Francisco. Today the Daly City resident is a Broadway star. Lang plays the title role in "Pal Joey," the smash musical comedy hit by Richard Rodgers, Lorenz Hart and John O'Hara, which opens a three week engagement at the Geary Theatre on Tuesday evening, September 15. "Pal Joey" comes to San Francisco after a run of almost a year and a half on Broadway, where it was awarded the New York Critics' Circle accolade as the best musical of the season.

That day, thirteen years ago, Lang delivered a telegram to a ballerina backstage at the San Francisco Opera House.

"I don't even remember the girl's name," he says. "But the company was rehearsing. I just stood around for hours watching the kids sweat. The next day I enrolled with the Christensen brothers ballet company. I fell in love with dancing."

Lang was sixteen at the time, but he was plunged into a classical ballet indocrination.

A stocky 29-year-old, Harold offstage, looks like the kid down the block who wants to be an actor. He was born in Daly City His mother was Spanish (Martinez) and his father French. (She lives at 14 Alp avenue, Daly City. Harold attended the Woodrow Wilson and Vista Grande Schools and graduated from the Jefferson Union high school. As a Western Union messenger, he serviced the Russ building. Lang also sang in the choir of the Grace cathedral.

By 1944 Lang had become one of the better known young dancers in New York. And that was the year Leonard Bernstein and Jerome Robbins produced "Fancy Free," the ballet about three sailors on leave. It was Harold's first non-classical part and gave him a chance to mug. (He had danced before with the San Francisco Opera Ballet Company, the Monte Carlo Ballet and Ballet Theatre. Though he has appeared in San Francisco with various ballet companies, Lang has never before been here in a legitimate theatre attraction—so that "Pal Joey" is in the nature of a debut for him.)

"I don't know what made me think I could act," Harold says "but I got a job in Stamford, Conn. and with Hugh Martin coaching me I got through 'Over 21' and 'Boy Meets Girl.'"

By 1948 the ex-Western Union courier was dancing, singing and talking in "Look, Ma, I'm Dancin'!" He followed this with "Kiss Me, Kate" and "Make A Wish"—winning Donaldson Awards for his dancing in both of these musicals. "Pal Joey" subsequently gave him his third Donaldson Award.

In "Pal Joey" Harold's co-star is Carol Bruce. It is a tribute to him that as John O'Hara's phony night club heel, who can believe anything but the facts of his own life, Harold never gets lost in one of the longest and most demanding of musical comedy roles.

A bachelor at 29, Harold lives solely with a family of Airedales. On weekends he packs them in his convertible and shows them at the nearest dog show in the Metropolitan area.

Harold's big crush of last winter was for Judy Garland.

"I met her at a party," he says. "Later I was walking along East 55th street one afternoon," he adds. "Judy came out of a building and was about to step into a cab. She turned around and saw me, and came over to say hello.

"Imagine," says the one time Western Union messenger and current musical comedy star, "being recognized on the street by Judy Garland!"

It looks as though Harold will just have to get used to such things.

Daly Cityan Harold Lang is shown with co-star Carol Bruce. The two appear in "Pal Joey," the smash Broadway musical comedy hit by Richard Rodgers which opened at the Geary theater Tuesday.

Two Local Motorists Receive Suspension

Two local residents had their drivers' licenses suspended recently and two motorists were placed on probation by the state department of motor vehicles.

Suspensions were given to Emorys Allen, 348 Abbot avenue, and John Garibaldi, 368 County street.

Placed on probation with the department were James Robert Bari, 1 Garden Grove drive, and Paul Allen Hopkins, 198 Miriam street.

Convicted of vehicle code violation 502, drunk driving, with no suspension recommended, were Alfred E. Barstein, 526 Vista Grande avenue, and John Gabriel Plas, 727 37th street, Colma, according to the department.

Permanent reinstatement of license was granted to motorist Charles Roth, 250 Crocker avenue.

SAN FRANCISCO MAN FINED $5 FOR SPEEDING IN D.C.

A San Francisco man, Dick Barnett, 2770 Pine street, was fined $5 in Judge Thomas L. Bocci's Municipal court last week, after being found guilty of speeding in Daly City.

Police said Barnett was travelling 50 miles an hour on the Alemany boulevard near the Westlake subdivision.

Barnett pled not guilty, and was given a trial before the court.

DALY CITY VOTES MONEY FOR SIGNALS

A sum of $20,000, Daly City's share in the cost of the signals to be erected on Alemany boulevard, was voted Monday night by the city council.

The money was voted in addition to the $18,000 regularly allocated from the city's share of gas-tax money.

State money amounting to $86,000, for purchase of the signals, has already been budgeted, but has not yet been released for use on the project.

As soon as the state adopts plans for the signals, the work will go ahead, according to Dan Andersen, city administrator.

OBITUARY

Clutsom

Funeral services were held Wednesday, September 16, for Robert Lenard Clutsom, 28, 98 Mission Circle, who passed away on September 12.

He is survived by his wife, Laura Clutsom; mother, Mrs. Anna Palmer, and Freddie Clutsom, brother.

He was a member of the Garage and Service Station Employee's Union Local 665, and a native of Sacramento.

Funeral services were conducted from the Mortuary of W. C. Lasswell Co. Interment followed at Golden Gate National Cemetery.

City Council Hires Two More Firemen

Two new firemen were hired by the city council Monday night. Effective Wednesday, Allen Brush and Warren Albee were made regular members of the Daly City fire department.

They will be paid salaries in the beginning range for firemen.

Charles Ford Named Water Superintendent

Charles "Gus" Ford, long-time city employee, was named acting superintendent of the water department by the city council Monday night.

He will take over the position vacated by Arthur Bodien, who retired last week.

Motion to install Ford in the post was made by Councilman Edward Dennis.

PET SHOP OWNER TO ANSWER CHARGES OF CHILD MOLESTING

Charles Edwin Folden, 50-year-old Westlake pet shop owner who lives at 49 Bel Mar avenue, will appear in municipal court Tuesday at 10 a.m. to face charges of alleged child molesting.

Police Officer Jack Walsh picked up Folden Tuesday after a complaint was filed by the mother of a young Westlake girl.

The mother said that her daughter had taken a dog for a walk Friday and on her return to the pet shop, 30 Park Plaza drive, Folden had molested her.

Folden was released Tuesday on $50 cash bail.

He denied the charges.

POINT WORTH REMEMBERING

The fact that the oil level shows full on the gauge does not always mean that the crankcase is full of oil, warns the National Automobile Club. It may be that part of the supply is made up of gasoline seeped down from the cylinders where it never was burned. Crankcase ventilation takes care of this to a great extent, but if a car has badly fitting piston rings, the burden may be too heavy.

The Town Record

case it's really the legit when we wish a speedy recovery to you, Mr. Cook.

Hate to see a regular person like Mrs. Cook so lonesome.

Take a gander at this week's editorial page, where you will still find "Through the Green Glasses," by Joe Bryan, former scribe for this paper during the summer.

Joe has left the premises, but will route his weekly movie and/or book review to us from San Jose State college.

Joe isn't exactly woiking his way tru collich with this enterprise. He just enjoys doing it.

A second young-un was added to the WINDELL SAWYER family, 433 Knowles avenue, Tuesday when the Mrs. (CARROL) gave birth to a 7 lb. 4 oz. girl, titled shortly thereafter JANICE MARIE.

This is the Sawyer's No. 2 offspring. They have a boy, age 18 months.

Pop Sawyer is in the employee of the Kennedy Electric company.

Consideration For Hand That Feeds

We believe Councilman James Kennedy deserving of an editorial pat on the back, after his insistence, though unsuccessful, Monday night that a contract be awarded to a local firm, rather than to an outsider.

The case in question was the consideration of bids on a park maintenance truck to be purchased by the city.

A San Francisco outfit bid low, but another company, a local firm, submitted a figure only $28 higher.

The local company, in addition to paying the customary business license fee, creates jobs, i. e., money, for the city of Daly City.

A picayunish $28 is small price to pay for the service a going-concern renders to the community in form of providing jobs and contributing tax revenue.

Contrarywise, the San Francisco firm offers us nothing.

Admittedly, by giving the low bidder the contract, the taxpayers of Daly City are saving a few bucks. But, at the same time, more than a thousand dollars is leaving this city and finding its way into the already pot-bellied coffers of the San Francisco exchequer.

Speaking in terms of thousands, the low bid is the thing, but in cases such as witnessed Monday night, a little deference toward the local merchants would be more in order.

Finding A Blueprint

(Editor's note: This publication has consistently clung to the belief that unscrupulous spending and confiscatory taxation are two of the more vile forms of tyranny. This piece printed below, from the farm news service of the Agricultural Council of California, takes both of these evils by the horns and comes up with an intelligent message we think bears reading.)

A growing conviction is rising in our country that our foreign aid program has been horribly misdirected.

We have expended some $40 billion in an attempt to buy "friendship" abroad. To date, it appears to have been little more than a vain, empty gesture. And this at eremendous cost to the long-suffering American taxpayer.

We haven't got a friend of substance in the world. Maybe Canada, our Siamese twin. Even Britain, our staunch ally in the two bloodiest conflicts in history, now argues against us and in favor of the Commies in the Orient.

France has just undergone a general strike that may prove mortal. La Belle is so Red-ridden it can't even govern itself. Wherever our tourists turned this summer they were met by the Communist cry, "Yank, go home!"

The Italian political scene does little to assure us of continuing friendship with this strategically located country.

China, so long our warm friend, is now our enemy and Nehru of India has certainly treated us poorly during the Korean "police action."

To compound the irony, the one "friend" we may gain in Europe is Germany, twice driven to its knees by the might of the U.S.A. and now existing divided against even itself.

Charitably, we can believe those who created and administered this debauch of America had no idea what they were doing or what the end result would be. That's the kindest thing that may be said.

But where we are going is becoming increasingly evident to the rest of us. We are going bankrupt. The inevitable showdown will come next year when Congress must determine whether the country will continue to operate with an unbalanced budget.

The only place that a substantial budget cut can be made is in military expenditures or in foreign aid. It is to be expected that the American people may not take too kindly to continuing support of nations which do not desire to trade friendship for economic aid.

The founder of Communism once told a sardonic truth. He said it is possible to spend us into bankruptcy and so destroy us—without firing a shot.

Unless we come round into the wind, operate within the scope of natural laws, within the framework of our constitution, America will end on the rocks along with the rest of this strife-torn world.

We should all be considering the desirability of a new course in the stormy seas of international affairs. It is a complex problem, tied up with considerations of both military and economic strength. Our entire concept of tariff and foreign trade is involved as well as a determination of the most effective action from a purely military standpoint.

We must have bold, decisive leadership. There are those who believe and rightly so—that we must also have a new blueprint for the house in which the nations of the world may live in peace.

PTA Rolls Up Sleeves Again

The knell of the school bell's clang reminds us that a great American institution is about to rise from the summer respite and swing into action.

This institution is the Parent-Teacher association.

In the newspaper business, there is much opportunity to view the works of the PTA, and, believe us, it's worthwhile.

Daly City's PTA organizations, we think, are as good or better than most.

Hundreds of local mothers put forth thousands of hours working time, gratis, each year, to see that conditions are better for the children, the teachers, the parents, and that a necessary harmony is promoted between those three groups.

Their work is not in vain.

We would like to send an early salute to the many conscientous mothers and, some fathers, who will embark soon on their annual projects for the PTA.

My Mad World

By Leonore Brewer

With a mighty thunderclap and a distinct odor of sulphur, Mefistofele launched the Thirty-first Opera Season Tuesday night. Fortified by my share of a bottle of Mumm's Cordon Rouge, I was the equal of both shows.

During the first feature the crush was something terrific, with everyone trying to see and be seen, and if possible be looking in the right direction when a photographer was near. Everybody, just Everybody was there. It was sort of a pity, too, because when everybody is somebody, nobody is anybody.

The Watchers were there, too, eager noses pressed against the great glass doors, waiting even through the third act. We have a tacit understanding, the Watchers and we; our eyes never meet theirs, but theirs are felt where the hair is short on the back of the neck, and if you listen closely, even above the uproar going on the foyer you can hear the sound of the trumbels rolling toward Madame Guillotine.

The writers of social chitchat really give their Rogets' Thesaurus a workout, trying to find substitutes for "fabulous" and "spectacular," which drop from exhaustion by the wayside early in the columns. As we plow our way through the horde of beautiful gowns, my eye is seldom caught by more than two or three, but for these there should be fresh, glowing words, taken with reverence from their folds of tissue paper to be bestowed as one would the Legion of Honor.

The second feature got off to a reasonably prompt start, and I blessed the memory of Gaetano Merola who had chosen Boito's masterpiece for Opening Night. A delicate Mozartian souffle would have fallen in competition with the noise of the audience, which generally sounds like a cross between a hive of angry bees and a horde of consumptive seals. Due perhaps to the mellowing influence of Mumm's, we were not so conscious of these minor distractions and merely sat there, calm and at peace with our neighbors, and let the opera roll over us, occasionally opening one eye just to be certain that all was going well.

This was our second hearing of Mefistofele, and we would say that it was the better of the two. There is hardly time to disect the performance and hand it to you in bits and pieces. If we did, the spirit would be hacked out of it. Let's just say that maybe it was the return of Licia Albanese, or maybe because Peerce has a lyricism and depth unmatched among tenors, or maybe it was Rossi-Lemeni repeating one of the great performances of our generation.

Answers Given To Veterans' Questions

Q. I want to apply for VA's vocational counseling to help me choose a training objective under the Korean GI Bill. There aren't any counseling facilities in my town. Would VA pay my transportation costs to and from a counseling center?

A. No. VA may not pay the travel costs of a veteran who merely desires counseling. But VA could pay these costs, in the case of a veteran for whom counseling is mandatory.

Q. If I meet all the eligibility requirements of the Korean GI Bill, would I be allowed to take training, even though I've gone back on active duty and am now in uniform?

A. No. The Korean GI Bill prohibits training by veterans on active duty, even though they do meet all the eligibility requirements of the law.

Q. I'm planning to buy a house with a GI loan. What would be my first step?

A. Your first step should be to go to your VA Regional Office and obtain a Certificate of Eligibility. Be sure to bring your original discharge or separation paper with you. Once you have the Cerificate, see a lender for a GI loan.

Q. I've just come out of service, and I'm planning to apply for $10,000 worth of GI insurance available to Korean veterans. I have a $5,000 commercial life insurance policy. Will I still be able to get the full $10,000 GI policy, even though I hold commercial insurance?

A. Yes. The amount of commercial insurance you carry will in no way reduce the amount of GI insurance to which you may be entitled.

KLASSEN, GREEN RIFT CONTINUES; PAYMENTS HELD UP, ENGINEER SAYS

R. A. Klassen, Civil Engineer

Redwood City, Calif.
Sept. 14, 1953

THE RECORD
Daly City, California.

Dear Sirs:

With reference to the news article in the September 10th issue of THE RECORD headed "Green Denies Control" I make the following comment.

He, Green, so I have been given to understand, has for about the past three years, held up payment of many of my bills. The records will show that my bills always have shown in full detail my costs and as a general rule, not rendered until the job was finished.

As to his statement, "it's stupid to say that five men on the council could be dominated by one man," under circumstances as I know them, I could not come to any other conclusion.

His statement, "It's customary to make payments for services when the work is done," is not so. A check of claims made and paid to others for services since about June, 1951, will show the reverse is true. Most show no detail.

Your editorial in the same issue on the same subject, had some very well chosen words in it. With all of them I heartily agree.

As of today, I have heard nothing on the matter.

Very truly yours,
R. A. Klassen

Finds THE RECORD A Link With Home

September 6, 1953

Dear Sir:

Since we are leaving Tripoli, North Africa, the end of this month for home, we would like to thank you for having sent us THE RECORD since I was recalled in 1951.

THE RECORD has been an important link with home for my family and myself, which we appreciate very much.

Very truly yours,
Max Kurtz

TEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Thursday, Sept. 16—Daly City baseball fans will have their first opportunity to see a home-town team in action in a championship series next Sunday afternoon, when the Farallone Packers open a three-game final with the Moffat Mantecas at Marchbank park. The contest will start at 2:30 p.m.

Under the management of Charles Norry, the Packers held the lead in Peninsula Summer league play throughout most of the season, until its very close, when they slipped to third place. Entering the playoffs they knocked out the first-place Belmont Merchants with two straight wins to qualify for the finals.

Six members of Squad No. 3, Daly City Auxiliary police, have successfully completed training in the general course required by the national office of civilian defense, according to R. L. Crane, chairman of instruction for this area.

Those taking the training included Edward Kimmerling, Anton Francesconi, Earl Bergeron, Edward E. Quinn, William E. Thomson and Captain Sidney Watt. Henry Sundermann Jr. is regular police officer in charge.

The summer recreation program at Lincoln park and General Pershing school came to a close Saturday morning with a party on the playground, sponsored by the Women's Civic club.

Women's Civic club members who assisted at the festivities were Mrs. Marie Gehrig, Mrs. Marie Poole, Mrs. Dora Holmberg, Mrs. Lillian Cavagnaro, Mrs. Rose Watson, Mrs. Martha Linden and Mrs. Anna Eason.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Sept. 16—Accepting a best bid from Lawson, Levy and Williams Monday evening the city council negotiated sale of $34,000 bonds for the new city hall. Legal details will be cleared immediately and actual construction work is scheduled to start by October 10. Anglo California National Bank and Bank of America made unsuccessful bids for the city hall bonds.

Temporary executive committee of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce met last Tuesday evening to nominate nine members for the 1939 board of directors.

The list includes A. Gaggero, A. Conci, J. Sirex, E. Keathly, Fred Knoll, B. L. Merritt, Paul G. Selmi, R. L. Crane Jr., and A. Bluf.

"The bonds shall carry!" This was the determined declaration of public spirited citizens this week as the drive to float a $50,000 bond issue for a new school building was swept into a final concentrated effort to provide safety for school children.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Sept. 21—Mayor H. H. Smith has been advised by Helen Chesebrough, vice-chairman of the San Mateo County chapter of the American Red Cross, that San Mateo county's suggested quota for the relief of sufferers in the areas devasted by hurricanes during the past few days is $4000.

The Rev. George Woodall has been called to the pastorate of the Daly City Methodist Episcopal church, and will preach his first sermon on Sunday, his subject being, "Go Forward."

The Rev. Woodall comes to Daly City from Waterloo, Iowa, where he was pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church.

Mrs. A. Parmisano, of 101 Evergreen avenue, and Mrs. Warren Butman, of 499 Evergreen avenue, met with a painful accident last Tuesday afternoon.

The ladies had just alighted from a No. 18 street car, coming from town at Templeton avenue and Mission street, when the motorman signaled for them to go across in front of the car. The auto, driven by Sam Deguara, of Skyline boulevard, Colma, which had come up in back of the street car, passed to the left of the car, and as the ladies were crossing the street, struck both of them, throwing them to the ground.

How Can I?

Q. How can I make my French dressing thicker?

A. Keep it in the refrigerator and, just before serving, drop an ice cube into it and stir it well.

Q. What can I do about honey that has become grainy?

A. Set the container in a saucepan of hot water, with a couple of sticks of wood under the honey jar so the water can circulate under it, and let it stand for several hours. Keep the water hot, but not boiling, and the honey should return to normal.

Q. How can I prevent tarnishing of my gold and silver slippers?

A. By keeping them well wrapped in old stockings when the shoes are not in use.

Q. How can I fix a wide-brimmed hat so it will stay during windy weather?

A. Sew a small comb, teeth upward, inside the front part of the crown. When you put the hat on, the comb goes through your hair without mussing it and hold the hat securely on your head.

Q. How can I make my youngster's leggings warmer?

A. Try taking the bottom half of some discarded pajamas, dye it the correct color, and sew inside the leggings as an extra lining.

Q. How can I prevent gum from collecting on my fireplace stones, bricks or tiles ,when burning pine wood?

A. After a thorough cleaning of the surface, coat it with boiled linseed oil.

Q. How can I clean plaster of paris statuary?

A. Smear a paste of laundry starch and water over every part of the surface, allow to dry completely, then brush the powder off.

Q. How can I promote more health in my geranius plants?

A. One quick and simple method is just to droy some cigar or cigarette ashes into the soil in which the plants are growing.

Q. How can I obliterate superficial scratches on light-colored furniture?

A. Rub the meat of a walnut or pecan back and forth over the scratches until the nut crumbles and fills the scratches. Put a coat of wax or polish over it at once to keep the nut meat in piace. For a more permanent remedy, use beeswax instead of the nut.

Q. What can I do if the "fast" colors in a garment are not so fast as they should be?

A. Add a little ordinary vinegar to the wash water.

Q. How can I avoid having woolen garments turn stiff and hard after washing?

A. Add a few drops of glycerine or a pinch of borax to the water.

County Library Announces New Bookmobile Sched.

The San Mateo county free library wishes to call attention to the revised schedule of bookmobile service in the Daly City area.

Since the inauguration of bookmobile service last March, this travelling branch library has circulated 23,679 books to 2137 borrowers. The bookmobile has acquired its greatest following among children, who have borrowed a total of 15,593 books. It has also been tremendously popular with adult borrowers who have taken advantage of its services to borrow foreign language and technical books from the state library as well as to draw on the county libraray's resources of books, magazines and pamphlets.

Don't miss the bookmobile, so here's the new schedule. Copies of the schedule will also be available on the bookmobile.

Through The Green Glasses

By Joe Bryan

Current companions traveling the cinema circuit are "Thunder Bay" starring James Stewart and "The Great Sioux Uprising" featuring Jeff Chandler. Surprisingly enough, the latter film seemed to be the better vehicle to this viewer.

"Thunder Bay" is a story of a search for oil in the gulf stream. James Stewart is the hard-driving crew boss of a gang of oilers. His idea is to conquer the gulf stream with a particular type of durable platform upon which to set a rig for drilling. The picture bogs down in technical jargon in many spots and the problem is not apparent to the average cinema-goer. The cultural impact of the gang of oilers on a small gulf village is played up, but is not convincing because the accents used by many of the bit players leaves much to be desired. Added to this is Joann Dru as the eldest daughter of a villager who has gone to Chicago, become disillusioned and returned to her hoe for sanctuary. She is the behind the scenes foe of Stewart who later turns out to be his behind-the-scenes helper. The brief love scene between the pair is too pat.

Dan Durea is Stewart's chief aide-de-campe and turns out to be the most interesting character in the show. At the crisis, he lets Stewart beat him up and then leads the oil gang on a two weeks work without pay crusade in which they manage to bring in a gusher and find the "golden shrimp" for the village fisherman.

The film is a natural for the lovers of photography for photography's sake. There is a series of terrific shots dealing with a gulf stream hurricane which any shutter-bug will enjoy. Facial close-ups of the characters are good and shadow work in the night shots is real fine.

James Stewart somehow lacks the punch to be the tough guy he is portraying, but might have gotten by better if the story had been stronger and not hinging so much on coincidence. If anyone was at fault throughout the picture it was the script writers who left clumsy plants for the coming events of the story and did not motivate any of the characters well.

On the other hand ,"The Great Sioux Uprising" is a tightly written story, well-motivated, and action-packed. If there is a single false note in the picture, it is the unmistakable eastern accent of Faith Domergue, the female lead. She sounds like a Vassar graduate who has come west on a lark.

"The Great Sioux Uprising" according to the picture is all a mistake caused by a horse thief who is selling horses to the U. S. cavalry. He steals Chief Red Cloud's horses to sell just as the Confederate Army is trying to enlist the aid of the Indians in the Civil War. Jeff Chandler, who plays the part of a medical man, saves the day for the union after a series of hair-raising adventures including imprisonment by the horse thief, the Indians, and an interesting run of the gauntlet which the photographers do a good job on. Chandler also manages to perform an appendectomy on the horse thief without a scalpel. A humorous note is injected into the picture when a cowboy diagnoses appendicitis as the malady affecting the boss horse thief while Chandler is wondering what is wrong with the man.

Love-making is kept to the minimum in the picture as be-fits a top grade western and Chandler does not marry the gal as the picture ends. He is in the uniform of the United States military with the rank of medical corps captain.

On the whole, "The Great Sioux Uprising" was a pleasing picture and made up for many of the deficiencies of "Thunder Bay" which had the top billing of the two films.

Ridgely Cummings Reports

REAR RANK TO CEMETERY

When a best seller is loosed with flamboyant quotes of approval from the hacks who make a living writing blurbs, it is my usual reaction to pass it by.

If it's a really good book, I figure, it will still be around a few years from now. And if its is just another feeble shot in the dark, I won't have wasted my energy ploughing through second rate stuff.

Thus I felt when, back in 1951, James Jones' "From Here To Eternity" hit the bookstores with huzzas of publicity.

"Not Sufficiently"

The magazines were full of laudatory reviews and my curiosity was tittillated. But not sufficiently to put out four-fifty in coin of the realm.

The hullabaloo died down and I might have forgotten about the book, except that Columbia Pictures put out a movie version and "From Here To Eternity" was back in the news again.

One day in the Press Club library Fred Sutherland, the librarian, tried to foist off on me a couple of this year's best sellers and I gave him my theory about time culling out the dross. Then, because the movie had reminded me of it, I mentioned the Jones novel as one I'd like to read sometime.

A Waiting List

Fred said there was a waiting list and I didn't bother to put my name down. More time passed and last week, to my surprise, Fred hailed me and said he was holding the book for me.

So now I've got it and I've read it, all 861 pages of it.

Also I've seen the movie.

There is absolutely no comparison between the book and the film.

For anyone who's read "From Here To Eternity," the movie is a pale, watered down, sugar sweet, third rate imitation of reality.

I've noted that a lot of movie critics are claiming the film is great stuff, but either they've never read the original or they read it so long ago they've forgotten Jones' hardboiled, pithy honesty, which compares to the film doings as a hobo convention does to a boy scout jamboree.

Individualism

"From Here To Eternity" is life in the regular army. It is the story of a man's bitter fight to retain his integrity. It is individualism against the pressures of conformity.

And because we live in an age and an environment where all the cards are stacked in favor of the apple polishers, the boot lickers, the spineless aye-sayers who conform it is a tragedy.

But what a tragedy, full of gusty outlandish humor on the same order as that in Norman Mailer's "The Naked and the Dead." There is a lot of similarity between the two books, both being long and packed with detailed observation of what seems to be actual experience, except I'd say that James Jones more fully realizes the true flavor of army life.

Hunk of Carrion

Jones takes a 21-year-old soldier from sometime in 1940, when he's already been in the army five years, to January of 1942, when he winds up a hunk of carrion, killed by the thing he loves.

Jones' hero is named Robert E. Lee Prewitt and before one has traversed the 861 pages he knows Prewitt better than he knows most of his own close relatives, knowing his strengths and weaknesses, his appetites and loyalties, his ambitions and inner feelings of being doomed, along with Kipling's gentlemen rankers, to eternal defeat, above all knowing his rockbottom determination to do what he thinks is right for him, regardless of the consequences.

Prewitt is a Thirty Year Man, as he proudly tells his buddies. A West Virginia kid whose family died during the depression when he was 13 and left him with nothing to do but go on the bum, Prewitt rides the boxcars back and forth across the country until he's old enough to enlist.

Equipment For Survival

In jails and jungles he develops speed and a terrific punch, part of his equipment for survival. When he joins up he is discovered to be a natural welterweight and punches his way toward the top in army athletic circles.

Then, accidentally, he blinds a buddy in the ring and thereafter refuses to fight. With his refusal begins his ordeal.

Prewitt is also a great bugler, one who can play taps in a way that mirrors the pride and patience of the common soldier, catching the loneliness and barrenness of his life, the comradeshin of the barracks, the sweat of the KP's, the hatred of the Stockade and the fellowship of squad and company against an indifferent outside world.

But he is forced to lose this too. An inferior bugler is promoted over him and he tells off the corrupt warrant officer. He is transferred, back to line duty.

The Treatment

Prewitt's transfer puts him in the company of Capt. Holmes, regimental boxing coach. Prewitt refuses to fight for Holmes and the non-coms start The Treatment.

Prewitt's integrity leads inevitably to punishment, the stockade, murder, desertion and death. But not before a bookful of vivid canvasses have been painted and a dozen strongly realized characters spring to life.

There is Milt Warden, the top-kick of Prewitt's company, played by Burt Lancaster in the movie and not badly either though he is often hamstrung by the namby-pamby Hollywood approach.

A Memorable Individual

There is Mrs. Holmes, the Capt's wife and Warden's secret sweetheart, an Army wife who reflects the flavor of the inbred army post society while at the same time remaining a complete, memorable individual.

There is Maggio, Private Angelo Maggio, with more guts than muscle, who makes the Stockade and beats it in his own painful way.

Columbia has Frank Sinatra play this part and Frankie Boy winds up dead, because the script writer thought it necessary to combine two separate roles into one, that of Maggio and of Private Blues Berry with the wolfish grin and cold blue eyes, who is beaten to death in the Stockade gym, under the eyes of his fellow prisoners.

Sinatra does about the best job of any in the high powered cast and this despite the watering down and diluting of his dialogue and actions. In the book, the Brooklyn clerk from Gimbel's basement is a three dimensional figure who will take his place in literary history, if my guess about the importance of this novel is correct.

The Majors

Prewitt, Warden, Maggio, Mrs. Holmes and Lorene, Prewitt's girl friend from the Congress Hotel, are the major characters but there are a score of carefully etched supporting figures who come fully alive.

Just calling off the names will bring back the personalities to those who have read the novel: Leva, the patient supply clerk; Friday and Andy, Prewitt's buddies; Sgt. O'Hayer, the gambler; Lt. Culpepper, the empty-headed career officer; Cpl. Bloom, the athlete with the inferiority complex; Chief Choate, the Indian athlete; Stark, the tough young mess sergeant who also knew Mrs. Capt. Holmes and never got over it; Violet, half Schofield and half Japanese; Georgette, who belonged to the book of the month club; Jack Malloy, the Wobbly chased off the waterfront and into the army by the Marxist tactics of Harry Bridges; Fatso Judson, the worst of the sadists who run the Stockade, the man Prewitt swears to kill and finally does. And many others space and the niceties of writing for a newspaper forbid describing in detail.

The Stockade scenes are a nightmare of inhumanity and ruthless cruelty but the movie dodges them all, which perhaps is one reason the Army gave its nod of approval to the film.

Reading "From Here To Eternity" is a good bit like serving a hitch in the army oneself, an experience not to be missed. This book will live, mostly because, one feels, it is as completely honest as the writer could make it.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. (Ezekiel 34:12.) Read Ezekiel 33:30 or Romans 13:1-6.

People are often troubled in spirit when they go to church. They are all the week round buffeted by the world. They are weary in body and sick in soul. They come to worship God, to find solace and health in His presence. It s good that by listening to the words of the preacher and joining in the hymns and prayers, the worshipers forget for one short hour the world with its bickerings and troubles.

And if sometimes the words of the sermon probe the deep wounds of their hearts, or the thunder of Sinai makes the sinner tremble and be afraid, that also is good. The main thing is that the divine Voice be audible through and within the human voice or instrument. Then the preacher is a prophet, and the Church is donig its task of priesthood in bringing God near to men and men near to God.

PRAYER

Lord of life, Thou Shepherd of the sheep, Thou art faithful in Thy desire and tireless in Thy efforts to bring us into the fold of Thy blessedness. Help us to hear Thy voice and cry out for deliverance from evil. Speak to our hearts through Thy Church. Keep us faithful. In the Shepherd's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The Church brings God near to us, and us near to God.

Sunday School To Resume Sunday At Broadmoor Church

Regular Sunday school classes will be resumed this week at the Broadmoor Community Presbyterian church, according to the Rev. John A. Glasse, minister.

Starting at 9:45 a.m. Sunday all classes will go to their regular rooms, the minister said. This will mark the beginning of the fall program at the church. During the summer the children of the school have been gathering on Sundays for movies on far-off lands.

The Rev. Glasse will "preach to the pews" instead of the people at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday.

Special music will be provided by the adult choir.

The adult coffee class will also be resumed Sunday.

Hope Lutheran Ladies To Sponsor Bake Sale

The Ladies' Guild of Hope Lutheran church will sponsor a bake sale tomorrow (Saturday) at the Western Auto Supply store, near King's Market in Broadmoor Village.

The sale is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., according to Mrs. M. Moreno, publicity chairman.

Laymen's Day At Ocean View Church Slated For Sunday

The Ocean View Christian church, temporarily meeting in the Lakeside Dancing Academy, 107 Sagamore street, announces that Sunday is Laymen's Day in the local congregation.

Robert Miller and Harold Emmert will be in charge. The morning service is held at 10:45 o'clock. At this hour the following program will be given: the scripture lesson, Oliver deGraf; "How to interest the boys," John O'Keefe; "What the church means to me," Kent Tiedeman; "The church and the laboring man," Ted Bryan; "What the church means to me as a white collar man," Keith Sigars. Robert Miller will close the service. Howard Patrick McConnell is minister of the congregation.

Sunday school is at 9:30 o'clock. Ruth Wherrie will tell stories at the opening program using fannel board illustrations.

The Chi-Rho group meets Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, and the CYF group Monday evening.

Bible study will be at the home of Mrs. McMullen, 266 Hearst, on Thursday evening.

N. Y. Man Named Salvation Army's Western Leader

Chairman L. D. McLeod of the local Salvation Army Committee received word today that Lt.-Commissioner Holland H. French of New York has been appointed to serve as territorial commander of the Salvation Army comprising the eleven western states, Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands.

The Commissioner comes here after thirty-eight years of active officership in the many and varied fields of Salvation Army activities.

The most recent appointment was as chief secretary for the vast operations in the eastern territory with offices in New York.

Projects under their leadership will include everything from the Salavation Army's extensive spiritual program to the comprehensive relief and rehabilitation work for which The Army has become noted in more recent years.

Lt.-Commissioner French replaces Commissioner Claude E. Bates who has served the west as Executive Officer since 1948 and who will now assume responsibility for the central territory with offices in Chicago.

Mrs. George Riddell, vice-president of the Women's council, presided during the business meeting and program.

Mrs. Einar Hanson told of her experiences on her trip to Canada.

Mrs. Walter Kesler attended the meeting of the General Assembly, which met in Minneapolis, Minn., as a visitor with her husband, who was an elder delegate from San Francisco Presbytery. Mrs. Kesler attended many of the meetings that were arranged for the women.

The choir director, Marian Walker, has announced that rehearsals will be held every Wednesday evening at 7:45 p.m. New voices are always welcome," she said.

Bishop Sheen Visits Mary's Help Hospital

His Excellency, The Most Reverend Fulton J. Sheen, national director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, made two brief visits at Mary's Help hospital to call on an old-time friend, The Rt. Rev. Monsignor Richard Collins.

The Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, their hospital staff and a number of patients also had brief visits with Bishop Sheen during his stay in San Francisco when he participated in ceremonies commemorating the centennial of the Archdiocese of San Francisco.

PARKING ON DOWNGRADE

When you park your car on a downgrade, turn the wheels to the curb, advises the California State Automobile Association. Be sure your hand-brake is pulled on hard. A runaway car can be a "killer."

INCREASED CALL FOR BLOOD IS ISSUED BY BANK

An ever increasing demand for blood from civilian hospitals of this country is putting pressure on the San Mateo County Blood Bank to the extent that today it has issued an urgent call for blood donors.

For the month just closed the county bank heeded 650 calls for blood which went for emergency transfusions for ill and injured men, women and children patients in local hospitals.

In one day recently, the blood bank supplied 57 pints of blood to local hospitals. In addition to meeting the daily demands, the blood bank must keep a sufficient supply at its various distribution points, namely hospitals, to cope with any emergency which may arise. Persons should give thought to becoming blood donors for the future protection of themselves and their family members.

In addition to the pressure put on the blood bank by the increase in population, with subsequent increase in illness and in accidents where blood transfusions become necessary to save lives, the blood bank will soon be faced with the opening of additional hospital facilities. These in turn will draw to greater extent on the bank.

The Peninsula Hospital, now under construction in Burlingame, will have 144 beds. Sequoia Hospital in Redwood City is adding a wing with 100 beds. All other hospitals are crowded to capacity. The demand for blood keeps moving upward.

The county blood bank asks that appointments to become blood donors be made at once by telephoning DI. 3-1424.

CHECK FAN BELT

Defective fan belts are responsible for many expensive automobile breakdowns, the California State Automobile Association warns. It is good policy to take a look at the fan belt each time the engine hood is raised. Deteriorating, oil-soaked or badly-frayed belts should be replaced immediately.

Mobiles By Calder Top Exhibition At Museum Of Art

The exhibition of Mobiles by Alexander Calder now at the San Francisco Museum of Art contains 15 of the latest works of this internationally famous artist which are shown by courtesy of the Curt Valentin Gallery, New York City, and the Frank Perls Gallery, Beverly Hills.

Calder's exploration of movement, combined with a remarkable sense of mechanical contrivance and respect for materials, has been the basis of his most original contribution: " . . . his unique enlivening of abstract art by humor. Through humor he satisfies the observer's appetite for feeling or emotion without recouse to direct representation . . . a humor that stirs up no specific associations and no emotional recollections to distract the observer's attention from the work of art itself."

Calder has exhibited widely and frequently since 1928 and is represented in museum and private collections all over the world.

Bay Area Sculpture, also on hand at the museum, is an exhibition of 22 small sculptures by 18 Bay Area artists which is being circulated by the Western Association of Art Museum Directors. Most of the artists represented are, of course, well known to visitors to the Museum. Among those who work will be included are: Jeremy Anderson, Elah Hale Hays, Miriam Hoffman, Ruth Cravath, Sargent Johnson, Adaline Kent, Keith Monroe, Ernest Mundt, Richard O'Hanlon, and Zygmund Sazevich.

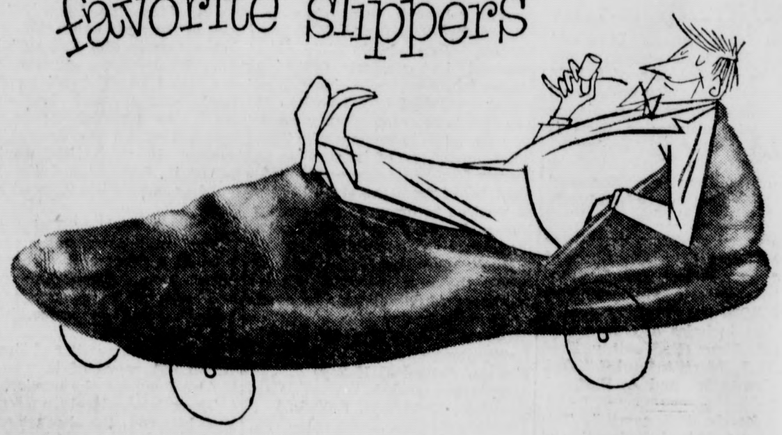
Just like your favorite slippers



Comfort is hard to describe. It's a sleeping kitten next to a stove. It's that extra blanket on a cold night. It's a hammock on a summer afternoon.

It's also a Pullman room on an S.P. streamliner, and here's why: You have lots of space to relax in. You have all the privacy you want. You have individually controlled air conditioning. You have the wonderful full-length Pullman bed and clean white sheets every night. You have your own private toilet facilities. You have all the attentive personal service of a top-flight hotel. And you have the many recreational facilities of the Lounge Car, including games, refreshments and the stimulating conversation of congenial people.

Next time you travel on Southern Pacific, try the luxurious comfort of a Pullman room — roomette, bedroom, compartment, drawing room or suite. Also available: Pullman section space (upper and lower berths). You can reserve space in advance.

FREIGHT TRAVELS IN COMFORT, TOO

We handle freight gently and at low cost, too. On an average we move a ton of things for only 1.45 cents a mile. YOUNG D.C. COUPLE EXCHANGE VOWS

RECENT RITES at the First Christian church united this young Daly City couple, James Hatchel and the former Marchi Golden.

Impressive Ceremony Unites Local Couple

Marcia Winifred Golden, daughter of the Eugene Field Goldens of Daly City, and James Lee Hatchel, son of the C. B. Hatchels, also of Daly City, were the principals of a charming wedding, held in the First Christian church at Noe and Duboce streets at four o'clock on Sunday, August 23.

The maid of honor was Miss Patricia Evans, daughter of the Lloyd Evans of Irvington. She and the four bridesmaids, Marge Duncan, Geraldine Giomi, Nancy Golden and Janice Sproule, and tiny flower girl, Joan Hassler, were lovely in long pastel gowns, carrying bouquets of pink and lavender sweet peas.

The bride wore a lovely white nylon net and lace gown, with a nylon yoke topped by lace collar and wrist-to-elbow lace sleeves. Her bouquet was of white roses and bovardia. Her shoulder length nylon veil fell gracefully from her pearl crown.

Marcia walked down the aisle on the arm of her father, who gave her away. The groom's best man was Leo Giannecchini and his ushers were Milton Tromborg, Lou Cortapassi, Mario Leveroni, and Richard de Losa, garbed in white coats and dark trousers.

The bride's mother was lovely in a golden gown with brown accessories, a beautiful bronze rose corsage. She carried her furs over her arm. The groom's mother was charming in purple with black and white accessories.

Appropriate and lovely organ music was furnished and the beautiful song, "All the Things You are," was sung by Mary Jo Smith.

At exactly four o'clock, two of the bridesmaids came down the aisle to light the candles on either side of the flower-decked pulpit and as soon as they returned to the vestibule, the wedding march began.

It was a particularly impressive ceremony, with the ten attendants in a semi-circle. The service was read by the Rev. Pat McConnell, and prayer offered by the Rev. Clifford Jope.

A delightful reception for the 150 guests was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony.

Many pre-nuptial parties had been given and following the reception at the church, receptions and dinners were enjoyed at the homes of the parents of the groom and the bride.

The new Mrs. Hatchel was graduated from Jefferson high school this year, and enters San Francisco State college this semester, where she will seek general secondary credentials in art.

The groom, also a Jefferson graduate, class of '51, is currently attending City College of San Francisco, where he is majoring in electronics. He served a three-year stint in the Navy from 1951 to '53, and was aboard a U. S. destroyer in Korean waters.

In attendance at the wedding were a number of out of town guests, among them a cousin of the bride, Mrs. Laura Newbury.

17th District CCPT To Meet Sept. 17th In South City

Seventeenth District C.C.P.T. will hold its first meeting of the school year on September 17, 10 a.m., at South San Francisco high school, 398 B street, South San Francisco.

The morning program, planned to be of value to everyone interested in child welfare, will be a panel discussion by San Mateo county leaders in juvenile protection led by District Attorney Louis B. Dematteis. Participating will be Miss Catherine Mangin, director child welfare services; John S. Cowgill, chief probation officer; Anthony Levoi, assistant chief probation officer and Loren Beckley, chief deputy probation officer. Mrs. E. M. Davidove, 17th District's juvenile protection chairman, will act as hostess to the group. Discussion will be on child welfare, probation and children's court work from the standpoint of the real and the ideal. A question and answer period will follow. Written questions will be collected and given to the panel for discussion.

The afternoon session will consist of a round table discussion on PTA plans and policies with the following 17th District chairmen participating: Mrs. Gregory Davis, public welfare; Mrs. Lester Nettle, citizenship; Mrs. August Johnson, legislation; Mrs. E. M. Davidove, juvenile protection; Mrs. T. W. Sewelch, safety; Mrs. C. L. Crawford, motion pictures; and Ralph Shaw, recreation.

This meeting will provide an opportunity for PTA leaders to meet and know county officials and their work. Welfare chairmen for the units are especially invited to attend. As not hot luncheon will be served, everyone is asked to bring a "nosebag lunch." The food will be pooled and shared by all. Hot coffee will be served by the South San Francisco high school PTA.

OLD GLORY AUXILIARY ATTENDS INSPECTIONS

Several members of Old Glory Auxiliary No. 2044, VFW, headed by President Elizabeth Sorensen, attended the official inspection of Lake Merced Auxiliary No. 9921, VFW.

The inspection was carried out by District President Stella Disbrow of the 12th district.

Those who accompanied Mrs. Sorensen from Old Glory were Eleanore Cochran, Bonnie Ellenwood, Catherine McKeown, Marjorie Johnson and Clara Poket.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Cochran and Mrs. Poket attended the official inspection of Shore View Memorial Auxiliary No. 7427.

Friday, September 25, Old Glory will be hostess to Mrs. Disbrow.

Village Notes

By Mrs. Edith Warmouth (PL. 5-8026)

Well it's been a week of many activities in this area with so many of our children singing "School Days, School Days" and trudging off to their various schools but we do have other news bits to offer to you for your reading:

GARDEN LANE

Mrs. Frank Tanner will have as house guests for the school season, her sister, Miss Ann James, and friend, Miss Pat Wilson. Miss James is from Mariposa and Miss Wilson from Potter Valley. They will attend San Francisco State college, where they will study music. They have both joined the choir of the Broadmoor Community church and we are sure they will enjoy their stay in B.V. and Garden Village.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Atwood returned from vacation which took them to Southern California, Nevada, Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Idaho, Utah and parts about. They visited various friends and relatives while traveling through these places of interest for vacatonists.

The Durant Moseley's and children have returned from their vacation at their summer home in Boulder Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gold are back at home again after a vacation which took them to Ben Lomond.

SWEETWOOD DRIVE

The Larry Long's and children returned from a vacation in Cazadero on the Russian river. While staying there daughter Marge celebrated a birthday September 8. In honor of the occasion a family party was given.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sutter celebrated a 15th wedding anniversary September 3 by going to Villa Chartier for dinner.

Jimmy Nissen was seven years old on September 11. He celebrated with a group of his little friends.

FOOTHILL DRIVE

Bud and Betty Christmas along with Linda and Terry returned from a vacation in Lake Tahoe.

Helen and Grant Holman and Miles returned from a trip to Utah and up through Banff, Canada.

Ruth and Joe Land and children Judy and Steven returned from a vacation in Lake County.

The Alec Land's and Gail and Mike are home once again after spending their vacation in the ever-beautiful Lake County.

LOUVAINE DRIVE

Mr. and Mrs. G. McDonell returned from a vacation in Fort Bragg.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne L. Atwood and family have returned from their vacation at their summer home in Boulder Creek, Santa Cruz.

COLMA

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Davy and son Johnny returned from a vacation trip which took them to Sonora.

CHURCH NEWS

The Womens association of the Broadmoor Community Presbyterian church held their monthly meeting Tuesday night, September 8. A dinner was served to the members and their guests. Africa was the theme of the program, which was presented under the chairmanship of Mrs. Mary Litchenberg.

A very interesting and timely talk was given by Miss Dorothy C. Wagner, western area secretary for the Board of Foreign Missions. She related facts on the people, land, education and hospitals as they are in Africa today. Getting back to the dinner—the main dish was an African recipe called "Ground Nut Chop," and the 37 ladies served really were treated to something different in the way of food. Good, too! The flower decorations were extremely pretty.

Next month the association will have as speaker on their program, Miss Eleanor Ewing, secretary of the Home Foreign Missions. Any ladies interested in attending are cordially invited to do so. The date will be mentioned in a later news item.

That's it for now but look for us again next week.

OLD FORT TEJON

Old Fort Tejon, located n Tejon Pass on U. S. 99 between Bakersfield and Los Angeles, is reported by the National Automobile Club to have been built in 1854 to defend the pass against hostile Indians and to have been an important army post in the early days of the American Occupation.

FIRST FAMILY GET-TOGETHER IN TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

FIRST FAMILY get-together in 25 years was held last week in Menlo Park for an early Daly City family, with Mrs. Eleanor Cameron and Mrs. Leola Bedell, both formerly of this town, as co-hostesses. Many of the old-timers will remember Mrs. Lena Hutchings, and her children have many acquaintances here. Mrs. Hutchings was an active member in the building fund of the present Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church. Many members of the Hutchings clan still reside here, while some live on the southern Peninsula. At the gathering a barbecued turkey dinner was served up. Shown here (top row, left to right) are: Mrs. Dorothy Stewart, Mrs. Lillian Albrecht, Harry Hutchings, Wililam Hutchings, Mrs. Ivy Quinn; (bottom row) Richard Hutchings, Mrs. Dolly Brush, Mrs. Eleanor Cameron, Mrs. Leola Bedell and Harold Hutchings.

FORM SEPARATE PENINSULA REGION IN AREA FOR WOMEN'S AMERICAN ORT

The rapid growth of the Women's American Ort in the Bay Area this last year has necessitated a separate Peninsula Region.

This Region is composed of four Peninsula chapters, Northern, Central, Southern, and El Camino. These four chapters are working to carry out the extensive program of Women's American Ort, (Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training), which is to feed, clothe, provide both physical and moral care for Ort students, as well as to maintain over 400 tuition-free vocational training installations in 19 countries on five continents. These training schools are maintained for the purpose of reconstructing the lives of thousands of uprooted and underprivileged Jews.

In order to carry out it's program to the best of their ability, the Peninsula Region will hold a Planning Conference on Sept. 24 at 8 p.m. at the Jewish Community Center in Burlingame.

This conference will outline the constructive programs of the Chapters, as well as educate its representatives as to Ort's wide range activities. The four Chapter presidents are as follows:

Northern Peninsula, Mrs. Norton Langley; Southern Peninsula, Mrs. Irving Dickstein; Central Peninsula, Mrs. Joseph Babin; El Camino, Mrs. Ernest Haskins.

The elected officers of the Peninsula Region are as follows:

President, Mrs. Felix Vogel; first vice president, Mrs. Ralph Lister; second vice president, Mrs. Herman Lubfin; parliamentarian, Mrs. Albert Feldhyn; recording secretary, Mrs. Irwin Cohen; financial secretary, Mrs. Otto Kraus; treasurer, Mrs. Sidney Weil; scholarship, Mrs. Phil Berson; publicity, Mrs. David Skootsky;

The Northern Peninsula Chapter will hold it's membership tea at the Westlake Music School on September 23 at 8 p.m. Speaker of the evening will be Judge Lenore Underwood, noted judge of the Municipal court of San Francisco. All those interested in attending are asked to contact Mrs. W. L. Leavick, 59 Garden Grove, Daly City, PL. 5-7028, Mrs. Jos. Klebanoff, 203 Indio Drive, South San Francisco, Juno 8-9192, or Mrs. Albert DeNola, the Membership Chairman, DI. 4-8167.

The Northern Peninsula Chapter will also hold it's annual Rummage Sale on October 9 at Community Hall, housing Authority of Lindenville. Anyone with suitable items to donate, please contact Mrs. Klebanoff at above phone number.

DRUIDS AWARD SCHOLARSHIPS

Mr. Leonard Lopez, chairman of the Druidic Scholarship Fund Committee, reports that the United Ancient Order of Druids of California have decided that the Scholarship Award winners for this year are Miss Viola Ann Nicolaus of the City of Alhambra and Mr. Richard E. Cea of the City of Placerville.

Hillcrest Circle No. 143 of this city has assisted materially in seeing that these scholarships are continued and wish this year's winners continued success in the furtherance of their education.

Both of these students were judged in competition with numerous applicants from every corner of the State of California and Nevada. The factors of worthiness, scholastic standing, citizenship, and character are used in determining the two winners each year.

There are no restrictions as to the majoring subject, location of the college they wish to attend, nor necessity of belonging to the Druids of California. These are some of the reasons for these awards being considered amongst the most liberal in existence by some of our leading educators.

Besides the two scholarship awards of this year, the Committee also voted unanimously to continue the same financial assistance to the two winners of last year who are now attending the College of Pacific and Santa Rosa Junior college.

Irish Picnic Is Slated Sept. 20th

The Ancient Order of Hibernians of San Francisco is sponsoring a joint Irish picnic at Boyes Springs, September 20. There will be dancing, prizes and games.

A feature attraction will be a game of Irish football to be played by all-star teams of championship caliber. This promises to be a fast and exciting event well worth watching.

Buses are provided for the trip for those without transportation and will leave the Irish American hall at 454 Valencia street at 10:30 a.m. and 12 noon on September 20.

Gas and electricity are cheap in California

Among the many advantages of California living, one of the first discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Trudel when they moved West last year was the low cost of gas and electricity. They found these services cost far less here than in their former home.

With P.G. and E.'s combined rates actually lower now than in 1938, let bargain gas and electricity do more of your work . . . give you added leisure.

How P. G. and E.'s low rates save the Trudels money

In their Stockton home, the Trudels use these appliances for more pleasant, convenient living:

The Trudels' P. G. and E. bill (recent month) . . . $10.37

In their former home, the same amount of gas and electricity would cost $25.67

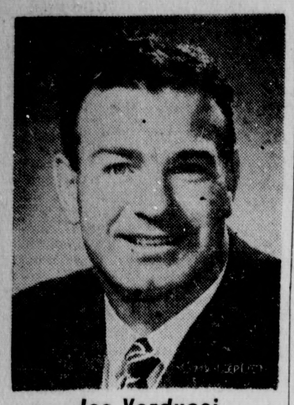
JOE VERDUCCI'S GATORS LOSE FULLBACKS TO SELECTIVE SERVICE

With their first contest only two weeks away, coach Joe Verducci's San Francisco State Gators have their work cut out for them.

Lacking depth to start with, the collegians suffered further damage in the past two or three weeks



Joe Verducci
. . . Ranks Are Thin

when the selective service summoned three of their outstanding players.

Fullbacks Out

Army bound are John Fortson, first string fullback, Fil Jularbel, second string fullback, and Phil Roark, the Gators "biggest and best" lineman, according to Verducci.

Verducci, a Daly City councilman in addition to his pigskin tutoring post, indicated his team was very "thin" from the standpoint of reserves.

Though the first regular scheduled contest will be held in the local Cox stadium October 2 against Cal Tech of Pasadena, the Gators will engage in a scrimmage contest Tuesday against the Presidio eleven. Game time is 4 p.m. at Cox stadium and Verducci has extended an invitation to all local football filberts to attend the scrum free of charge.

Backfield Situation

As the line-up now stands, the councilman-coach has about six or eight backs, all fast, which means the Gator ground game won't be the worst in the West. However, lack of fullback material will put a serious crimp in the outfit's T-formation attack.

Along aerial lines, the Gators boast one of the top pigskin pitchers in the west in the form of Maury Duncan, nationally-ranking quarter-back. Little Mo Duncan was seventh in the nation for total offense among small colleges, and ranked fifth in passing in that department.

Predicts Big Things

Verducci says he expects the talented QB to make "at least Little All Coast" this year.

"One Deep" In Line

In the line, Verducci finds himself in the quandry of being virtually "one deep" in nearly all positions.

Vieing for the center spot will be Jerry Harper, 170 pounds, and Larry Conover, who is ten pounds heavier.

At guards will be Don Slate, 180-pound letter winner, and Jess Jones, who tips the scales at the same figure. Behind this pair, who served offensively and defensively, respectively, on last year's squad, will be Elvin Case, Santa Rosa Junior college transfer, and Don Madera, a substitute tackle on last year's Gator club.

Don Logue, 220-pounder, another SRJC "expatriate," and Bob Foote, offensive lineman last year, will fill the guard slots. Giving this pair a battle for starting honors will be Roy Nonelal, speedy 200-pound youngster.

On the flanks, Letterman George Wenner, and Tony Fardella, will handle the chores.

Platoon System Out

Although Verducci will not be able to employ the platoon system this year, there will be few "iron man" roles, he says.

"When the boys get tired we'll send in a substitute," he said. The only catch is, finding the substitute, but Coach Verducci has two weeks to think that situation over.

Indians Tabbed Top Grid Talent In PAL

"If we don't suffer too many injuries we'll have as good a chance as anybody."

That's the opinion Joe McGrath, coach of Jefferson high grid squad, has of his chances this year.

Which, in plainer words, mean's Joe probably has the most talented outfit the PAL has to offer, and if his team doesn't cop the championship, we miss our guess.

While the majority of league coaches are weeping crocodile tears over the loss of last year's ground gobblers, McGrath is tutoring practically the same eleven he had last year.

Chief Loss

Chief loss to the Indian squad was bone-rushing Fullback Nick Bockwinkel, but McGrath is not without strength at this position for this year's pigskin crusade.

A total of ten when who last year played first string, either offensively or defensively, have returned to the Jeff roster.

Taking over where they left off last year will be Vic Irons, right tackle; Jack Thur, right guard; John Madden, center; John Geertson, left guard; George Spoulos, left tackle; Jim Minor, left end; Ray Rosa, quarter-back; Wally Honeywell, right half; Ed Gallagher, fullback; and Bill Butler, regular end last year who will be working at left half this season.

Probable starter at right end will be Mike Cloonan, a second stringer in '52. Vieing for starting honors at left half against Butler is Omar Grimes, who was on the second squad last year. McGrath rates these two as a toss-up.

Plenty Reserves

In addition to this coach-pleasing line-up, McGrath is blessed with ample reserves .

Making a strong bid at right half will be Del Hamann, while Jim Honeywell, 10.3 sprinter, up from the frosh-soph team, should be a valuable asset to the fullback post.

Herb Frost will probably spell Rosa at the signal calling spot.

But, back to the first string and some of the more outstanding reasons McGrath will have the class of the league.

Rosa Rated Better

Quarterback Rosa, who was rated third best all-around pass chucker in northern California last year, is rated even better this year, according to McGrath.

Hard to stop on the ground will definitely be Wally Honeywell, who last year set a record for rushing at Jefferson high.

In addition to that he bested all PAL performers' efforts last year for yards rushed in a single game—200.

The Jeff strength will be tested for the first time Friday, October 2, against Mountain View at the latter's stadium. The Indians will be out to turn the trick, having been beaten, 14-13, last year by the SCVAL team in the final seconds.

In addition to this contest, the Jeffs will play one other non-league game, against Balboa here on Armistice day.

The regular league sked will include seven contests, the first here against Capuchino.

McGrath said the student body is currently working on a plan to offer Daly City residents low-priced season tickets to all home contests.

"Drivers Beware" Safety Slogan For Month Of Sept.

"Children may dare, drivers beware!"

According to the California Highway Patrol this National Safety Council slogan for September summarizes the best possible advice for motorists.

"Youngsters intent on a football, a foot race or a playful dog, never seem to have time to watch for traffic hazards. Their personal problems seem too important to them.

"Now that classes have resumed, motorists must accept added responsibility for the protection of children," advises B. R. Caldwell, Commissioner of the Patrol.

"Parents are urged to review and reemphasize pedestrian and bicycle safety rules so that youngsters will know their own part of the job," he adds.

Last year 4500 children under 15 years of age were killed in traffic accidents, with the greatest increase recorded during the last four months of the year and during the afternoon and early evening hours.

"While we appreciate that children sometimes disregard danger signals, every motorist must remember that one moment of forgetfulness can result in a fatal collision.

"Since children may dare, drivers must beware," Caldwell reiterates.

Cosmic Stopwatch Times Billionths Of Second

A cosmic stopwatch that times events in billionths of a second has been developed by physicists on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

The group, under the direction of Dr. Harold Ticho, designed the instrument for certain cosmic ray studies under an Army Ordnance grant.

The device will be used to measure the lifetimes of certain heavy mesons, particles from atomic nuclei. Such particles are thought to exist for only billionths of a second. (One billionth of a second is to a second as one second is to a hundred years.)

The works of the outsized watch include Geiger tubes, scintillation counters, vacuum tubes and certain germanium elements. It works like this:

Fast moving cosmic rays from outer space, which bombard the earth constantly, create these mesons when they collide with atoms of matter in the device. These mesons pass through a flourescent fluid in the instrument, then cease to exist. Their passage through the fluid causes a brief and feeble flash of light which is picked up by a photomultiplier tube causing it to flash briefly. The time interval between the two flashes is recorded and represents the mesons' brief life span.

Geiger tubes, which detect arrival of cosmic rays, alert the timing mechanism when to start ticking off its billionths of a second. The face of the stopwatch is actually the face of an oscilloscope and is characterized by a series of waves. Wave crests correspond to the numbers on a clock and are two billionths of a second apart.

Comedy Hit Is Slated Sept. 28th At The Alcazar

It is now official that film star, Mary Astor will have the central role of the Broadway comedy hit, "The Time of the Cuckoo," when it comes to the Alcazar for a limited engagement beginning Sept. 28th.

Brilliantly cast as an attractive spinster caught in a desperate romance of early middle age, Miss Astor will tour from coast to coast in the Arthur Laurents play which is offered to local subscribers of the American Theatre Society.

Termed a romantic comedy, contrasting American ways with Italian ways—particularly as it concerns cultural attitudes toward sex—"The Time of the Cuckoo" ran a full season on Broadway where it opened last October under the highly acclaimed direction of Harold Clurman. The producers of the play are Robert Whitehead and Walter Fried who sponsored, respectively, "Member of the Wedding" and "Death of a Salesman."

Supporting Miss Astor in the role of a Venetian lover is Dino DiLuca, Broadway's newest romantic discovery, described as a slighter, younger Ezio Pinza, equally authentic as to continental gallantry although without Pinza's basso profundo.

A secondary plot of the play concerns a young married couple entrapped in problems of marital fidelity, which will be played by Douglas Watson and Janet de Core. The role of a Venetian pension keeper with a double-decked standard of morality, is assigned to Lydia St. Clair. The setting of a Venetian garden is by Ben Edwards and the costumes by Helen Pons.

Currently, "The Time of the Cuckoo" is the centerpiece of the annual summer festival in Central City, Colorado, where it it has already broken attendance records of 19 years standing.

In explanation of the play's title, the Cuckoo is a bird which flies in Europe every summer and signalizes the season of love.

Typing Classes At Marina Adult School

Typing classes for beginners, intermediate, and advanced students will meet at the Marina Adult school, Chestnut and Fillmore street, Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday from 8:40 a.m. to 10:40 a.m., beginning Monday, September 21, 1953.

These classes will provide complete and thorough business training for those desiring to prepare themselves for positions in public or private industry and to enable independent businessmen to handle their own business with a minimum of secretarial help. The teacher is Miss A. Dorothy Smith.

These classes are a public service of the San Francisco Public school system and are, therefore, tuition-free. For further information, please telephone WAlnut 1-2707.

DALY CITY-COLMA KEG LEAGUE RESUMED AT BRENTWOOD TUESDAY

Four teams copped three straight games to inaugurate the Daly City-Colma Bowling league at Brentwood Tuesday.

Starting off with a clean slate were Pearson and Rector, J. Melani, Homes by Sterling and Vince and Fred's.

One team of the sixteen-team circuit had not yet been entered, making it necessary for the Daly City-Colma Lions to play unopposed for the initial evening. However, the other club will be in action next week, according to Joe Belli, secretary of the league.

Paul Bruch of Lombardi's Auto Service and Bob Volkman of Paul's Flowers latched on to high individual game, with scores of 224. Following closely on this top score was Jim Calonico of King's Market, who hit a 221.

High individual series was also claimed by Bruch, who rolled a 582, while Paul Purposa of Ralph's Cleaners was runner-up with 579. In third and fourth, respectively, for the big series department, were Bacci Rochetta, Auto Radio, 578, and Dick Crane, Daly City-Colma Lions, 564.

Vince and Fred's scored high team game of 919, rolling with a handicap. Daly City Lions racked up a 890 from scratch to claim second in this category.

High team series was also won by Vince and Fred's, who hit 2637. The Pearson and Rector combined to score 2565, good enough for second, while Daly City Lions were third with 2507.

Sarto A.C. Drops 15-2 Contest After 7 Straight Wins

Seven proved the unlucky number for Daly City's Sarto A.C. Sunday as, after that many straight wins, the club dropped a 15-2 debacle to Molkenburg brothers.

The outfit proved too powerful for the locals, as they touched the Sarto ace, Leo Gianechine, for 14 hits.

John Olcese led the Sarto men with three for four.

This week the Sarto A. C. manager, Harry Cronin, announced that his team will enter the AA winter league.

Next game for the local nine wil be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at Marchbanks park.

SACRAMENTO—Deficit spending by the California Department of Fish and Game ran almost $100,000 below the previous year and more than $1,000 below the originally estimated deficit for the 1952-53 fiscal year.

Harry Anderson, administrative deputy for the department, announced today that total revenues for the fiscal year just closed amounted to $6,282,445 while actual expenditures totalled $6,589,227. The difference of $260,648 came from the Fish & Game Preservation Fund surplus built up in prior years.

SACRAMENTO — When California's inland and north coastal deer hunting season opens for a 30-day run on Saturday, September 19, hunters will find the bucks in better than average condition, a general increase in deer numbers and fire hazards high in all areas.

The annual advance round-up of opening week-end hunting prospects made by wardens of the California Department of Fish and Game lists a generally mild winter as one of the reasons for the excellent condition of this year's deer herds. Except for scattered instances, deer numbers are slightly higher than last year.

The wardens warned that 19 refuges will be closed in the 38 counties and portions of counties open during the late season. Entirely closed to all hunting are refuges 4G and 4D in Riverside county, 4E in San Diego county, 1J in Alpine and Amador counties, Silver Lake in Eldorado county, 1V, 1P and 1H in Plumus county, 1S, 1F and 1Q in Lassen county, 1B and 1C in Modoc county and 1N in Modoc and Siskiyou counties.

Partly closed to hunting are refuges 1I in Placer, IR in Tuolumne and the Huntington Lake refuge in Fresno county.

In northeastern California District 1¾, one buck bearing at least three points on one antler is the seasonal bag limit. The District includes Modoc and Lassen counties and easterly portions of Siskiyou and Shasta counties.

A bag limit of two bucks, forked-horns or better, will apply in the north coastal area, which includes Del Norte, Humboldt, Trinity, Tehama and Glenn counties, the Mendocino National Forest region of Colusa county, and westerly portions of Shasta and Siskiyou counties.

Elsewhere, in the inland or Sierra area, including San Diego county, the usual one buck limit prevails.

Shooting begins one-half hour before sunrise and ends one-half hour after sunset.

Here are the wardens' predictions:

ALPINE: Good. Better than usual populations, fine bucks. High country best. Snow gone. New Heenan Lake road into Leviathan Peak country may be open to travel. Refuge 1J closed.

AMADOR: Good. More bucks than last year. All but resident deer above 3,500 feet; most above 5,000. Deer in excellent condition. Preston School area closed.

BUTTE: Good.. Many spike bucks. High fire hazard.

CALAVERAS: Good. Deer in high elevations. Many good bucks in back country.

COLUSA: Good. (Only portion of County in Mendocino National Forest is open; check with Forest Service for maps.) More deer than usual. Condition good. Two bucks, forked horn or better, may be taken.

DEL NORTE: Fair. Fewer deer than last year. National Forest areas best bets. Wet season.

EL DORADO: Good. More bucks than last year. Deer generally above 3,500 feet, majority above 5,000. Condition excellent. Recent high snows gone. Silver Lake region closed.

FRESNO: Fair to Good. Few more deer than 1952. Best hunting near Spanish Mountain, between north and middle forks of Kings river. Local reclosures on some of the parts of Huntington Lake Refuge opened by State this year.

GLENN: Good. Plenty of deer in low country, but this is posted private land and permission to hunt may not be granted till after first rains. Two bucks, forked horn or better ,may be taken.

HUMBOLDT: Fair. Fewer deer than last year, but condition good. Best bets: Buck Mountain, Swayback, Yager Valley, Big Lagoon, Snow Camp, Board Camp, Horse Mountain and Grouse Mountain area, Bald Hills. Many private lands closed, but permission to hunt often obtainable. Wet season.

IMPERIAL: Poor. A few bucks may be taken in Colorado river washes late in season.

INYO: Good, especially above 7,000 feet. Bucks in very good condition and more plentiful than last year; better season expected. Best bets: Independence, Olancha, Lone Pine. Also good: Red Mountain, Tinnemaha Canyon, Black Canyon, Black Mountain, Kid Mountain, Big Pine Creek.

KERN: Very Good in high country east of Kernville; fair elsewhere. Greenhorn Mountains fair but crowded with hunters. Former game refuge 1M open from October 1 only, and will contain closed area.

LASSEN: Good. Slight increase in numbers. Excellent condition, antlers heavier than usual. Best bet: Honey Lake Valley. Normal take around Blue Lake, MacDonald Peak, and South Fork Mountains. No shooting forked-horns this year. Refuges 1F, 1S, 1Q closed.

MADERA: Fair. Deer moderately plentiful; good condition. Banner, Ritter Mountains fair to good.

MARIPOSA: Fair. Most of county closed by National Park Service and private landowners. Deer in usual numbers; condition only fair. Best hunting in foothills, where considerable brush has been burned.

MODOC: Good. Few more deer than last year, especially in Devil's Garden area. Condition excellent. Some big bucks in South Warners. Refuges 1N, 1B and 1C closed. Forked-horns illegal.

MONO: Very Good. More bucks than in past several seasons. Deer in fine condition. Best areas: Buckeye Canyon, Little Walker, Sweetwater, Laurel Lakes, Parker Mountain, Tioga Pass, Bald Mountain, Crooked Meadows.

NEVADA: Good to Very Good. Population slightly up from last year. Most deer above 5,000 feet. Concentration in orchard and farm areas. Whiterock Lake very good.

PLACER: Good. Populations up, deer mostly in higher elevations. Refuge 1I partially closed.

PLUMAS: Good. Bucks plentiful except in eastern part. Scare around Dixie Mountain Refuge. Special closure for Air Force Survival training program, but Crocker Mountain, Mt. Ingalls, Walker Mine open. Refuges 1P, 1H, 1V closed.

RIVERSIDE: Fair. Fire closures, closure of Refuges 4D and 4G cut out much good hunting area, mean poor hunting in San Jacinot Mountains. Deer population normal except for decrease in heavily hunted Elsinore district. Condition excellent. Fire hazard extreme.

SAN BERNARDINO: Fair to Good. Fire closures, local ordinances hit some of best country. Deer population normal, down some in Lytle Creek and Lone Pine Canyons. Best bets: north side San Bernardino Mountains, Big Bear Lake ,upper Santa Ana Canyon. Extreme fire hazard.

SAN DIEGO: Poor. Fire closures. Refuge 4E closed. Some good bucks likely on desert side of Laguna Mountains, but going hard and hot.

SHASTA: Good. Early fall may make hunting better than usual in lower areas. Deer plentiful on high summer ranges. Best bet: Viola area. Cattlemen's Association has closed many areas. Fire hazard extreme.

SIERRA: Good. Many large bucks in Downieville-Loyalton-Sierra Valley area. Weber Lake good.

SISKIYOU: Good. More deer this year, antlers heavier. Moffat Creek, Callahan area best in two buck area. Miller, Bogus, Bald mountains fairly good. Tennant Flats, Medicine Lake, McCloud Flats good in one buck area.

TEHAMA: Fair. Few more deer than last year. Best hunting in high country. Government Flat, Beegum, Mineral, Payne's Creek good. Large private closures, permission to hunt required. Refuge 1G closed.

TRINITY: Good. Deer plentiful in high country. Best bets: Trinity, Salmon Alps, Bobs Farm, Rattlesnake Lake, New River drainage, Canyon Creek, Weaver Bally, headwaters of Browns, Indian, Reddings creeks: Tangle, Blue, Marshy, Mosquito lakes; Union, Eagle creek headwaters.

TULARE: Fair to Good. Fewer deer than last year. Best hunting in high country near Beach Meadows.

TUOLUMNE: Fair to Good. Plenty of deer, especially near Yosemite, but well dispersed. Dry weather may concentrate them near water later in season. Best area: Cherry river drainage. Dodge Ridge may get too many hunters. Refuge 1R closed.

YUBA: Good. Resident deer in good shape.

SACRAMENTO — Once-a-year fishermen are reminded that special three-day Pacific Ocean fishing licenses are no longer being issued by the California Department of Fish and Game and its license agencies. The law establishing these licenses expired September 9, the legal 91 day period after the end of the 1953 session of the Legislature. Regular full-year angling licenses will now be needed by all ocean fishermen except those using public piers.

License officer C. L. O'Leary stated that 18,900 people bought the $1 licenses in 1952. He is hopeful that the Legislature will reinstate the three-day permit at its next session.

BATTERY CARE

The automobile battery will give more carefree service if terminals are kept clean and tight, says the California State Automobile Association. Corrosion can be quickly removed with a solution of washsoda and water applied with an old brush or whisk broom.

GOOD DRIVERS

Good drivers always let the other man know what they are about to do, according to the National Automobile Club.

Detroit Studies Sales of "Continental" Studebaker
By a Wall Street Journal Staff Reporter
DETROIT—Studebaker, which was a big factor in setting early-postwar auto styles, may now be setting the pattern for the next few years.
Its 1946 model, designed with lavish use of glass by Raymond Loewy, was the first completely redesigned postwar car. The South Bend, Ind., concern made no further major change until its current 1953's; with these it introduced low, rakish "Continental" styling. Also designed by Loewy, the new model cost $27 million to introduce, double the 1946 cost.
A top Detroit stylist, employed by a rival manufacturer, says that the current Studebaker will affect the future looks of more competitive makes than the industry would like to admit.

LT. GOV. KNIGHT WILL MEET THE PRESS AT PUBLIC MEETING IN SAN MATEO

Lt. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, who will "Meet the Press" at a public, non-partisan meeting in San Mateo city hall at 8 p.m. Wednesday, has revealed an evaluation of the letters has has received from San Mateo county residents. Knight reports that public interest in this area has been noticeably strong on the isues of "Schools," "Highways" and "The Southern Crossing."

Knight has told the San Mateo County Republican Assembly, sponsors of the special mass interview, that he will welcome questions on these three issues, as well as on other subjects. Twenty Peninsula and San Francisco newspapermen will appear on the platform with Knight, to question him. First to toss a hat into the 1954 gubernatorial ring, Knight made formal annoucement of his candidacy today.

Assembly president Dan R. Love Jr. of Burlingame emphasizes "This will be an open meeting. Everyone is invited. No tickets nor reservations are needed."

Mrs. Rudolph Kotsche of Atherton, program chairman, has just just returned from Sacramento, where she conferred with Knight on final details of the meeting.

Mrs. R. Raymond Holt of San Mateo, host and hostess chairman, has named the following committee for the special meeting with Knight: Mrs. Mark Senaldi of South San Francisco: Dr. Joseph H. Lorenz of Burlingame; Donald C. Jamison of San Mateo; Mrs. Russell Rahe of San Carlos and Marcel Latieze of Redwood City.

Burlingame Attorney Reveals Candidacy For County District Attorney Position

Roy W. Seagraves, Burlingame attorney, today announced that he would be a candidate in 1954 for the office of District Attorney of San Mateo County in view of the appointment of Louis Dematteis to the newly created Department No. 4 of the Superior Court.

In making this announcement Roy Seagraves states, "It is my desire to carry on the very fine impartial and efficient operation of the office of District Attorney so effectively demonstrated and performed by Louis Dematteis. If elected, it is my sincere intention to perform the duties of the office in an impartial and objective manner in order that the laws of our great state will be administered and enforced, consistent with justice and tempered with mercy."

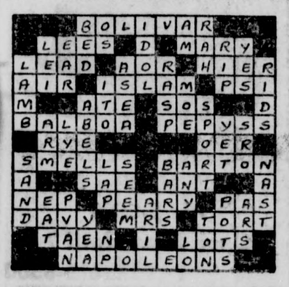
Roy W. Seagraves is forty-four years of age and has been engaged in the practice of law for twenty (20) years. He is admitted to the practice of law before all of the courts of the States of Washing and California. He has served two years as a Deputy District Attorney and two years as a Municipal Judge.

His war record includes three years of active duty with the United States Marine Corps in World War II as an Air Combat Intelligence Officer, followed by an honorable discharge with the rank of Captain. He spent two years in the South Pacific in the last war and participated in the Solomon Islands campaign, including the re-taking of the Island of Bougainville and neutralizing of the Bismark Archipelago.

He has been continually active in civil affairs and has served for the past three years as President of the Interclub Council of Burlingame Improvement Clubs. He has served as a member of the Board of Directors of the Family Service Agency, an affiliate of the Community Chest, since its formation approximately three years ago.

He is presently serving as attorney for the Coastside County Water District, a municipal corporation.

Roy Seagraves is a member of the Burlingame-San Mateo Kiwanis Club, the San Mateo Elks Lodge and the Burlingame Post of the American Legion.



Adult Education Dept. Gives Decorating Course

The fall term class in interior decoration will open at the South San Francisco high school, Thursday night, September 24, at 7:00 p.m. Registration will be taken at the same time and place, 400 "B" street.

The title of the course "Interior Decoration On A Limited Budget" will be taught by Walter Murray, author and lecturer on interior decoration. The course includes the rejuvenation of old furnishings and the renewal of home interior surroundings by the use of inexpensive materials. Planning of groupings of furniture and the combining of colors and textures to create a pleasant atmosphere will be a strong point of the lectures.

Units on the study of color with special emphasis on textile cambinations, wall treatments, lighting and the use of glass, wood, and wood finishes will be presented by Mr. Murray.

A question and answer period will follow each lecture.

IMPROVES CAST IRON

Scientists have shown that cast iron can be improved by adding small percentages of nickel. The nickel makes the metal finer and more uniform in texture, and also increases its strength, wear resistance, toughness and resistance to corrosion.

Lake Merced Scout District Opens New Program Year

Opening of the new program year for Lake Merced district's 1046 Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts was announced this week by Dr. F. Grant Marsh, new district chairman. The Commissioner staff of the district met with the new district executive, Maurice F. Powers, Thursday evening at Homewood Terrace, to lay plans for their part in Scouting's affairs.

Kickoff of the program year occurred Monday evening when members of the district committee met with Dr. Marsh at the conference room in student activities building at City College.

The district committee meets monthly on the second Monday, the chairman said. Tuesday evening Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer leaders and committeemen took part in the first of the monthly series of Scout leaders roundtables, where program plans were discussed, ideas exchanged, and the basic methods of the scouting program plans were discussed, ideas exchanged, and the basic methods of the scouting program reviewed.

Lake Merced district includes all of Daly City, Colma, Balboa Terrace, Ingleside, St. Francis Wood, the West Portal area, and all residential, neighborhoods south of Sloat boulevard, including Lakeside, Stonestown and Park Merced.

St. Michael's Group To Hold Annual Whist

Immaculate Conception Sodality of St. Michael's parish will hold their annual Whist game in the school auditorium, 55 Farallones street, on Saturday, September 26, at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Frank Casebolt, prefect, appointed the following committee members: Miss Yolanda Bernardi and Mrs. Louise Buckholz, co-chairman; Mrs. Fred Blum, Mrs. Norman Robinson, Mrs. Paul Thompson, Mrs. Anna Rosellini, and Mrs. Ted Pechetti, assistants. The Rev. Frank P. Mulvihill is honorary chairman.

The public is invited to attend. Proceeds from the affair will be used to furnish flowers for the churches altar for the coming year.

Admission is fifty cents.

STAINLESS STEEL TRAINS

Many modern streamlined railroad passenger cars are completely built with a chromium-nickel stainless steel framework and encased in stainless steel sheets so thin yet, so strong, that weight and operating costs are substantially reduced. Ordinary steel sheets would soon rust through — the stainless steel does not even need the protection of paint.

EXCESSIVE FLAME EXHAUST ILLEGAL

Operation of a motor vehicle in a manner that allows undue amounts of flame to escape from the exhaust pipe is illegal, the California State Automobile Association warns.

A new law has added flame to the list of illegal excessive expulsions from vehicles such as smoke, gas, oil or fuel residue.

The CSAA explains that the primary purpose of the inclusion of flame in the list is to prevent the installation of spark plugs in tailpipes for igniting residual gases to produce spectacular and jetlike trailings of fire and sparks.

These pyrotechnical displays, although exciting, increase the menace of fire, frighten unsuspecting motorists, tend to arouse competitive horseplay among reckless young drivers and increase accident hazards.

Your Neighbors And Mine

By Betty Brush

Hello Neighbors:

Here I am again at my old battered up typewriter getting out the news for all the neighbors. Many thanks to one and all who requested that this column be resumed. It is a great pleasure to know that so many of the neighbors have enjoyed reading the column and I will endeavor to once again bring to you the news and happenings of the neighborhood.

An open house and reception was held Sunday of this week at the home of MR. and MRS. HORACE FELLOWS in honor of the 80th birthday of Mrs. Fellow's mother, MAMA LOMBARD. Mama is well known to practically one and all in our town and it seems that they all came to greet her on her birthday. People met each other who hadn't seen each other in years and there were many happy smiles and of course all the best wishes for Madam Lombard. Not only has "Mama Lombard" been in business for many years and made a host of friends but she is well known for her activities in the Druids. Her whist parties are famous, not only for the quality of the prizes but for the efficiency of their handling. It really must be wonderful to have reached the age of 80 years old and still be the same sweet person that one and all have known down through the years. Congratulations and all the best wishes to a grand lady from all the neighbors.

Servicemen

RICHARD EAGEN of the U. S. Navy was home on a final leave before shipping out again. Dick was gone the last time for over a year and all the friends and neighbors hope that he will be home for good soon. Bon Voyage, Dick.

A 2/c ROBERT C. MARTIN was heard from this week after a long absence of letters. Seems Bob has gone to Germany. According to him the base is fine and the climate is beautiful at this time of year where he is. He would, as would all the boys overseas, like to hear from some of his friends either at home or in the service. Anyone wanting his address only has to call me and I will be most glad to give it to them.

A 2/c SYL CRUZ JR. is keeping his family on their toes. Fact is they jump every time the phone rings. The reason? Syl is ready to leave for home after being in Korea and his family are anxiously awaiting the call that will tell them that he has left Japan and just how soon they will all go to Fort Mason and meet the boat. There are many of the neighbors whose hearts are with this family at this time and we all hope that the wait will be over soon.

Seems you just can't keep a good man out of the Service. JACK COOPER, son of the Winchester street Coopers, is in the Service Supply of the National Guard. Jack has had previous service in the U. S. Forces and at the present time is awaiting word from Washington on his application for reenlistment. Good luck and best wishes, Jack.

CPL. ROBERT E. STONE, formerly of Korea, and at the present time stationed at Camp Roberts, is in for a change of address. Seems that his unit of AA is being transferred to Castle Air Force Base near Sacramento. This won't stop Bob from coming home each weekend and seeing his old friends.

PVT. WALTER DUNAYSKI, who is known to many of the fellows of our town, has really had it. He went into combat just a few days prior to the signing of the truce and was very badly injured. He is now in a hospital in Japan and has written that he would really appreciate letters or cards from anyone who would care to send them. How about it neighbors? Any of the neighbors liking to have his address, just call PL. 5-6482.

News and Views

Visiting the old home town to say hello to old friends last week were MR. and MRS. ROBERT O. DUFFY, formerly of Los Banos avenue. They like their new home fine and the latest piece of news is that they are in-laws. Their son, RODNEY of the U. S. Navy, was married last month in New York. He and his bride, who also is following the Navy as a career, are stationed at Treasure Island Naval Base. Congratulations and best wishes for a happy future to ROD and KAY from all the neighbors.

Thanks and a bushel of orchids to the members of the Daly City Recreation department who gave so much of their time and energy to keep your children and mine happy during the summer vacation. There were activities for one and all from the littlest ones who were supervised at the playgrounds to the teen-agers who had their dances and activities in the community center. I don't know their names, but as a mother, I'm sure I speak for all of us when I say, "Thank you a lot for your kindness in behalf of our children."

Well, the big day finally arrived. Monday morning the doors of our town opened and out poured all the children to answer the time honored school bell. The little ones who had never gone before were all excited and practically danced their way to school to meet the teacher. The older ones thought it would be a good idea for awhile to see what the other kids had done during the summer.

The teen-agers heaved a sigh as if they were going to their doom and strolled leisurely down the street. Anyway, one and all are back in school and I'm sure they'll find it not only interesting but possibly, if they give the teachers a chance, educational. The mothers of course all breathed a sigh of relief and collapsed into the first convenient chair with a cup of coffee to enjoy for the first time in three months, complete peace and quiet.

Items of Interest

The LARSON HACIENDA in Boulder Creek is still buzzing with activity. The latest members of the family spending their vacation there were MR. and MRS. TONY GIAMMONA of Santa Barbara avenue. Mr. Giamonna also went back to school this week as he is a teacher at Jeff and Ruthie is the well known blonde at THE RECORD office who takes your ads over the phone with the smiling voice. Welcome home folks.

More old timers are leaving us. MR. and MRS. HOLSTRUM, long time residents of Los Banos avenue are moving to Concord. While their many friends and neighbors will miss them, we all wish them much happiness in their new home.

One of the nicest and certainly the most courteous of the business men of our town is MR. DUBIN of the Dubin's Men's Shop at the top of the hill. He not only has an up to date assortment of "just what the guys are wearing" but will order what you want if he hasn't got it. That isn't quite enough, he then calls up the parents of the boys after thanking them for their purchases and thanks the parents for their patronage. Just another one of your neighbors and mine.

This is quite a week in the lives of the ROBERT MILLERS of Los Olivos avenue. Sunday, the 13th, their first child, Robert LeRoy—8 lbs. 10 ozs.—was born; Friday will be Shirley's birthday and Sunday will be their first wedding anniversary. All this in one week still couldn't erase the perpetual smile that Bob always has for his neighbors and friends. Congratulations, kids on all these events.

MR. and MRS. DON ESPINOSA were also the proud parents of a son, their first child, born Saturday of last week. These young people and the Miller family are good friends and it seems that the fathers had a bet as to whose child would be born first. Bob lost but he is still happy. Both mother's and their respective sons are in Mary's Help hospital doing fine.

Home after spending her vacation with her grandmother is MISS MARILYN WALTON of Knowles avenue. She will be one of the many new faces seen at Jeff this week and all her many friends are glad to see her back again.

Well, neighbors, another column has finally been banged through this typewriter. It really is a pleasure to be getting out the news for all the friends and neighbors again. Remember, neighbors, the phone is still the same old PL. 5-6482 and I'll be waiting and glad to hear from one and all of the friends of "Your Neighbors and Mine." 'Bye now.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Food Sale

The American Legion auxiliary has announced their yearly food and bake sale to be held Friday, September 25, at the Sprouse-Reitz store at the top of the hill. The sale starts at 9 a.m.

The general public is invited to view a display of home cooked foods and bakery goods prepared by the members of the American Legion auxiliary of Daly City.

This food sale will be the first of a series of such affairs to be presented by the auxiliary, Mrs. Ann Welch, president, has stated. A spaghetti feed is planned for the month of October and a giant whist party for November. More details will be isued later.

Woodrow Wilson PTA Plan Initial Meeting Tuesday

The Woodrow Wilson PTA will hold their kick-off meeting of the school year Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 10 of the school.

A sound color film, "Party Line," will be presented through the courtesy of the Pacific Telephone company.

The school faculty will be honored guests of the evening. Everyone has been invited by the PTA to attend this meeting and become acquainted with the teachers of the school. The hospitality committee will serve refreshments.

The executive board met at the home of Mrs. O. Simonsen Tuesday. PTA ladies were on hand to greet new mothers on registration day, September 11. Cupcakes were served, with candy bars for the children.

JERRY SUMMERS RESIGNS AS EAGLE PRESIDENT

The resignation of Jerry Summers, worthy president of Fraternal Order of Eagles, Colma Vista Grande Aerie No. 1848, was submitted at a recent meeting of that organization.

Summers resigned because of the pressure of outside business, he said.

His chair has been filled by former Worthy Vice President, Stanley Nygowski.

Also resigning was the Worthy Conductor John Mona, who left his post because of ill health.

Nygowski, the new worthy president, has declared the vice-president and conductor chairs vacant, and called a special meeting of all officers and past presidents Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. to select and recommend to the aerie a candidate to fill the vice-president's chair. The vice-president position is elective, while the conductor chair is appointive.

MARILOU FAWCETT IS HOME ON FURLOUGH

Seaman Apprentice Marilou Fawcett, daughter of Mrs. Patricia Fawcett, 399 Ellington avenue, returned home Thursday after completing her WAVE "boot" training in Bainbridge, Md.

Joan Alsen Feted At Bridal Shower

Joan Alsen was feted recently at a surprise bridal shower, given by her aunt, Mrs. Louise Hennessy, at 24 Willits street.

Helping open the many gifts lavished upon her were Miss Vicky Hennessy and Miss Dorothy Duffy.

The table was set buffet style and Mrs. Hennessy had Simpson's provide the catering. Salads were in large crystal bowls and the sandwiches were served in assorted quarter sizes.

A large sheet cake in white with pink and white flowers was among the fare. On each corner of the cake were white doves, while a model of a bride and groom centered the delicacy.

Guests were: Misses E. Hechtman, D. Checci, E. Gilleron, C. Ciaccio, L. Village; and Mesdames M. Alsen, C. Hechtman, I. Hennessy, K. Hennessy, E. Mills, I. Terramarse, J. Terramarse, E. Terramarse, E. Guerhring, A. Bole, L. Baddarraco, F. Allison, M. Claus, J. Kane, L. Perciado, E. Charleston, E. Wertz and L. Guisto.

DRUIDS' HILLCREST CIRCLE HONORS ORGANIZER OF GROUP

Hillcrest Circle No. 143, United Ancient Order of Druids, honored the organizer of the Circle at their meeting Monday evening.

Mme. Victorine Lombard celebrated her 80th birthday. She was presented with gifts, flowers and feted royally.

Mme. Lombard organized Hillcrest Circle in 1929 and has worked for the advancement of the principles of Druidism during that time.

She has been a member of the Order for 60 years.

Initiation was held with the team on the floor. A bake sale is being held Saturday at Sprouse-Reitz Store.

The meeting October 12 will feature "Mad Hatters Nite."
